Says Reds Need Viet Battle Win Buildup in North Seen Significant

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. military men say the Communists in Viet Nam are desperately in need of a significant battle victory, and probably are building up in the north for an attempt to achieve one.

Military sources say Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. commander in Viet Nam, is concerned about the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam, created by the 1954 Geneva conference which divided the nation.

Detect Buildup
Signs of a big Communist buildup have been detected in the general area along with indications that the North Vietnamese 324B Division, badly hurt by the U.S. Marines' Operation Hastings in August, is being reactivated.

U.S. attention also is turned to the south — to the Mekong Delta area, where up to now there has been no major American deployment. An American drive into the delta is in prospect.

An upsurge in Viet Cong terror in many areas of South Viet Nam is interpreted as a reflection of Communist frustration.

Use Hit-and-Run
Military men say the Viet Cong are showing an increased disinclination to stand and fight anywhere, preferring instead to use their old hit-and-run tactics.

Military men's assessments of the overall situation are tinged with cautious optimism, although they admit that in present circumstances victory is a long way off.

Despite the trace of optimism, little has changed in Viet Nam for many months except that it is now regarded as impossible for the Americans to be defeated.

Nab Airman, Oust Soviet In Spy Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A German-born U.S. airman has been arrested and a Soviet diplomat ordered to leave the country in the fourth major American spy case reported since July by the FBI.

Seized at Coast Base
Staff Sgt. Herbert William Boeckenhaupt, 23, was seized Monday by FBI agents at March Air Force Base in Riverside, Calif. He was arraigned here on a charge of conspiring to commit espionage to deliver to a Russian diplomat "information relating to the national defense of the United States."

Boeckenhaupt, who lived in Superior, Wis., with his family since immigrating to the United States in 1948, pleaded innocent. He was ordered held on $50,000 bail.

After the FBI announced the sergeant's arrest, the State Department asked Aleksey R. Mal'tsev, a Soviet diplomat, to leave the country.

Cong Fails to Interrupt Parade Fete; 12 Viets Die, 37 Others Are Wounded

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Viet Cong shelled the center of Saigon today in a defiant but unsuccessful attempt to break up the South Vietnamese government's National Day celebration.

Five Americans Wounded
Thirteen persons were reported killed — 12 Vietnamese and a U.S. naval officer. Thirty-seven more were reported wounded, including five Americans.

The Viet Cong hurled 24 rounds of 75mm recoilless rifle fire in and around the parade route, U.S. military headquarters said. Vietnamese authorities reported mortar shells also struck during the shelling.

The bombardment hit Saigon's Roman Catholic cathedral, a Catholic school, the John F. Kennedy Square, the Saigon central market and the French-built Grall Hospital, the biggest in the capital.

The bombardment, first of its kind by the Viet Cong against Saigon, failed to interrupt the massive parade marking the third anniversary of the overthrow of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Guns Apparently Escaped
For two hours and 20 minutes, soldiers of the South Vietnamese armed forces and the six nations allied with them paraded before tens of thousands and leading Vietnamese and foreign dignitaries.

U.S. military headquarters said the shelling came from a point 3½ miles southeast of Saigon near An Khanh Ka. Six U.S. gunship helicopters closed in on the area and artillery spotter planes were aloft. A ground force of allied troops also swept the area but the Viet Cong gunners apparently escaped.

U.S. headquarters announced that three Viet Cong were captured near the parade grandstands on Kennedy Square. A spokesman said they were armed with grenades and small arms. A Vietnamese spokesman said four more Viet Cong, armed with grenades and weapons, were seized in the vicinity of the parade route.

Ready Leaflets for Drop
The U. S. psychological warfare section set to work immediately to prepare leaflets to be dropped from the air over both North and South Viet Nam. A spokesman said the leaflets would decry the "murder of the U.S. military."

At their arraignment Monday on charges of conspiracy to blow up three private camps. Tons of weapons and ammunition were seized along with the men — identified by officials as members of the Minutemen, a right-wing organization which trains its members in guerrilla warfare — in a series of pre-dawn raids Sunday.

Says Members Trained
The World Journal Tribune in its Monday edition said the United Nations building was high on the bombing list of right-wing extremists.

The WJT story said sources close to the 10-month investigation that led to the dramatic roundup revealed detectives had trailed members of the militant ultra-right group (Minutemen) into the U.N. at First Avenue and 42nd Street recently.

Aides of District Attorney Nat H. Hentel of Queens, the story said, were quoted as saying "they were extremely interested in the building and the surrounding area. The aides were quoted as saying 'apparently the plot to bomb the camps was just a dress rehearsal for bigger terrorist actions.'"

Neither Hentel nor Chief Inspector Sanford D. Garelik would discuss the anti-U.N. plot, the WJT story added.

Deny SLA 'Mr. Big' Part Of Alleged Shake Down; Link N.Y. Judge, Others

NEW YORK (AP) — Queens Dist. Atty. Nat Hentel says at least one New York City judge and several other persons were involved in a plot last July to shake down a liquor license applicant for $5,000.

Police Monday night arrested a man identified as Jack Brodsky, 55, a Brooklyn auto salesman, on charges of extortion and attempted grand larceny in connection with the case.

May Involve Other Judges
Brodsky lives at 370 Ocean Parkway, Brooklyn, police said. Hentel did not name the judge Monday. He said there was "a possibility that other judges were involved."

Hentel said he was turning his information over to Presiding Justice George J. Beldock of the Second Department of the Appellate Division of the state Supreme Court "to take whatever action is pertinent."

The district attorney, in making the disclosures to newsmen, denied a published report that a "Mr. Big" in the State Liquor Authority (SLA) was involved in the alleged shake-down.

Hentel said the alleged extortionists apparently sought to impress their intended victim by naming an SLA official, who was not involved in the plot, as the person who was to receive the $5,000 bribe.

"No one in the State Liquor Authority or the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board is involved," he said. The board, which is under the SLA, processes license applications.

Political Overtones
The case has taken on political overtones with the gubernatorial election just a week away.

A major scandal in the SLA broke out in 1962 and kept developing. Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, now running for a third term, fired SLA Chairman Martin C. Epstein.

Po'keepsie Gets $157,288 Grant For Renewal Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Hudson River city of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., is the recipient of a $157,288 federal advance to survey and plan a 15-acre city hall-area renewal project.

The Housing and Urban Development Department also approved Wednesday a $22,500 grant to the central New York community of Onondaga for aid in sewer construction.

whom he had appointed, Epstein, indicted on bribery charges, has not been put on trial because of illness.

Former Republican State Chairman L. Judson Morhouse, who managed Rockefeller's first campaign for governor in 1958, was convicted earlier this year on charges of conspiring to bribe Epstein to get a liquor license for the Playboy Club here. Morhouse, sentenced to two to three years in prison, is appealing the conviction.

Hentel, who was appointed Queens district attorney by Rockefeller, is running for election to the office. He was appointed after Frank D. O'Connor resigned to become City Council president last Jan. 1.

Three-Month Investigation
Hentel said at his news conference Monday that he was making public the findings of a cause of what he called "a premature disclosure" in the Sunday News this week.

He said the published story "seriously hampered" the action which I would not otherwise have taken until our investigation had been completed.

"Obviously," he said, "this premature disclosure has now fully alerted the individuals under investigation and put them on their guard."

Started by City Police
Hentel said the investigation was started by the city police, who later requested his cooperation after one of three partners seeking a liquor license complained at the Queens Village police station that an extortion attempt was being made.

Name Brown Policeman Of Year
Policeman Albert Brown of the Kingston Police Department has been named "Policeman of the Year," it was announced today by Police Commissioner Henry P. Eighmey, chairman of the selection committee which included Police Chief Robert F. Murphy, Deputy Chief Grover S. Hoffay, President Kenneth Radel of the Kingston Patrolmen's Association and Detective Charles McCullough.

Kiwanis Plans Fete
Officer Brown will be honored by the Kingston Kiwanis Club Thursday, Nov. 10. He will be presented with a plaque by Raymond F. Myers, president of the Kiwanis Club.

John R. Warren, chairman of the program for the local service club, said a group of police department citations also will be awarded at the Kiwanis luncheon by Kingston's Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan.

Warren pointed out that the Kiwanis Club instituted the selection of "Policeman of the Year" some years ago, and on this occasion all off-duty men of the police department and the Police Commissioners are luncheon guests of the service club.

Police said Brodsky, who was arrested Monday night, tried last July 29 to extort "$3,000 to $5,000" from three men trying to get a liquor license for the Imperial Inn, 115-02 101st Ave., Richmond Hill, Queens.

The partners were identified as Roy Wegman, Robert Landsberg, and Thomas Wolfe.

Landsberg's home was listed as 101-30 114th St., Richmond Hill, and Wolfe was said to live in Smithtown on Long Island. Wegman's home address was not available.

A liquor license was granted to the partners, police said.

SLA chairman Donald Hostetler, a former FBI agent appointed by Rockefeller to replace Epstein, says he has cooperated with Hentel in the current investigation.

Garraghan Will Call for City Action At December Common Council Meet

Kingston Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan, expressing shock at the damage caused by Halloween pranksters, today told The Freeman, he would seek a Common Council resolution banning all future public Halloween activities.

Expect GOP to Keep Control of State Senate as Dems Hold Grip on Assembly

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Republicans can be expected to keep control of the State Senate in next Tuesday's balloting, while Democrats maintain their grip on the Assembly.

This was indicated today in a resurvey of legislative election prospects by The Associated Press. The analysis showed no significant change from a survey made earlier in the campaign.

The conclusions are based on studies of local election trends and conversations with knowledgeable leaders of the major political parties as well as veteran political observers.

Campaign issues vary widely in Senate and Assembly districts across the state. In some instances the main issue is that hardy perennial — taxes. There also has been some debate over the scope and potential cost of the state's new medical aid program.

This picture has emerged: In the Senate, which will have 57 members, Republicans appear assured of 28 seats and Democrats of 23, with 6 races rated in the "doubtful" category. Democrats would have to win all six of the marginal contests to take control of the Senate, and this seems unlikely.

In the Assembly, which will have 150 members, Democrats can claim 77 "safe" seats for their party — one more than the number needed for control. The GOP is assured of at least 59 seats, and 14 races are regarded as "doubtful."

Of course, these findings could be altered by a series of sharp upsets in either house or by a landslide victory by the head of the Democratic or Republican tickets. President Johnson's overwhelming triumph in 1964, for example, carried Democrats to control of both houses of the Legislature for the first time in 30 years.

However, the Rockefeller-O'Connor race for governor is considered very close, and neither candidate is expected to provide much coalitional power for candidates farther down their tickets.

Of the six "doubtful" Senate seats, two are in the Buffalo area, one in the Rochester area, two in New York City and one on Long Island.

Medicaid has been a major issue in the Buffalo-area 53rd district contest between Republican Sen. William L. Adams and Democratic challenger Sheldon M. Markel. Adams was the Senate sponsor of the Medicaid program and has been the target of persistent criticism by those who fear it will prove too costly to the taxpayers. Adams is admittedly "running scared."

In the nearby 56th district, there is a three-way contest. Republicans normally would write off the district to the Democrats, but the Democratic incumbent, Bertrand D. Hoak, was denied renomination by his own party and is running instead on the Liberal line. The GOP hopes he will siphon enough votes away from Democrat James D. Griffin to throw the victory to Republican William Doering.

One of the closest contests is in the 53rd district, in the Ro-

Sees Price Cuts Possible Only if Services Reduced

WASHINGTON (AP) — A national supermarket spokesman says food prices can be reduced substantially only if stores cut out services he says the public demands.

But in Portland, Ore., a leader of a housewives organization planning to picket 170 stores says it would be fine to eliminate some of those services.

Elsewhere, there was scattered evidence that the burgeoning housewife revolt against high prices was inching ahead.

Clarence G. Adamy, president of the National Association of Food Chains, said Monday in Washington he sees no chance that housewife boycotts will bring lower food prices.

Prices could only be cut substantially, he said, "by shortening hours, taking out hot bars, eliminating check cashing — you could go down a considerable amount, maybe 6, 7, 8 or 9 per cent."

Mrs. Verl Jensen, secretary of Portland Women for Lower Prices, said stores could cut prices 10 per cent by remaining open fewer hours, closing Sundays and cutting out games, stamps and special promotions. Safeway Stores in Arizona announced they would drop "bonus bingo" because of housewives' pressure.

Henry J. Frank, Safeway's state manager for 39 stores, said the decision could affect prices, but he didn't say how much.

Demands Resnick Explain Vote on HUAC, Pool Bill

POUGHKEEPSIE— Hamilton Fish Jr., Republican Candidate for Congress, demanded again that Congressman Resnick "explain to the people of the 28th District why he voted against appropriations for the House Un-American Activities Committee (HUAC) and voted against the Pool Bill, which would have prevented trade with countries that aid the Viet Cong."

This is not the voice of the citizens of the 28th District, and it is the height of arrogance that these are the only two measures where our absentee Congressman is not a "rubber stamp" of Administration policies.

The HUAC has been declared by the Supreme Court as both Constitutional and as serving the legislative function of investigating organizations which might be detrimental to the United States. It does not abridge freedom of association or free speech, but, carefully defined rules of procedure, protects witnesses who appear before it. The HUAC, which I fully support, has recently investigated and recommended legislation regarding the Ku Klux Klan; and the Pool Bill, which would have made it a crime to obstruct movement of troops going to Viet Nam and to aid countries who trade with the Viet Cong.

"I support our commitment in Viet Nam, but oppose our non-policy attitude. But Americans have the right to oppose the Viet Nam war and this right is protected by the First Amendment to the Constitution. However, with so many casualties in Viet Nam it is asking too much for the Democrat Congressman to oppose any measures which will aid our enemy."

"Mr. Resnick sees no difference between free speech and assisting our enemies. Having been a rubber stamp for so long, he apparently is unable to distinguish between the two," Mr. Fish concluded.

State Takes Long Step Forward in Mental Health Aid

New York State is taking another long step forward in its pioneering program to bring mental health services closer to local communities by strengthening and expanding the New York regional office which services two-thirds of the State's population, Governor Rockefeller announced today.

The New York region includes New York City, comprising five counties, and the counties of Nassau, Suffolk, Westchester, Putnam, Dutchess, Rockland, Orange, Ulster and Sullivan. The office is located at 15 Park Row, New York City.

Named Associate

Dr. Alan D. Miller, commissioner of Mental Hygiene, has appointed a new associate commissioner for local services to head the New York Regional Office, the Governor said. Dr. Bertram W. Pepper, formerly director of Community Mental Health Services in Rockland County, has been named to the new position.

Other regional offices, Governor Rockefeller said, are being augmented to assist Community Mental Health Boards in the development of more varied and broad-range services in local areas and to coordinate state-operated services with them. Each regional office will be staffed with multiprofessional teams, which include psychiatrists, psychologists, social workers and nurses.

One of Dr. Pepper's first major tasks, Governor Rockefeller asserted, will be to work with the New York City Community Mental Health Board to improve the quality and variety of psychiatric services in New York City hospitals and to relate their programs more closely to state facilities and other local services.

Regional offices are also responsible for keeping Community Mental Health Boards informed about all new state and Federal legislation and for assisting them in planning programs incorporating all the assistance offered by state and Federal grants-in-aid.

Governor Rockefeller pointed out that the state provides 50 to 75 per cent of the funds for local services and one-third the construction funds for community mental health centers. The growth in local services since the Division of Local Services was established 12 years ago has been explosive. The Governor pointed out. In 1953 the expenditures amounted to $4.8 million; in fiscal 1965 they amounted to $24,204,968. At the present time some 98 per cent of the population of New York State is covered by some form of community mental health program but the variety of services provided is limited and expansion in such areas as aftercare and rehabilitation to the retarded and the mentally ill are needed.

Under the state's program, 43 Community Mental Health Centers and 10 Mental Retardation Centers will be established in New York City. A great deal of assistance from the regional office in planning and coordination of services of so many centers with those of state-operated hospitals and schools is required.

Dr. Pepper, 34, who was awarded his master's degree in community psychiatry from Columbia University in 1964, received his MD from New York University College of Medicine. He interned at the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital on Staten Island.

Dr. Pepper served as staff psychiatrist at the U. S. Public Health Service Hospital at Fort Worth, Texas from 1958 to 1960. In July of 1960 he was appointed a senior psychiatrist at Rockland State Hospital in Orangeburg. In 1964 he was named director of community mental health services for Rockland County and in 1965 he was named as psychiatric consultant to the Warren County Community Mental Health Board. In 1965 Dr. Pepper was also an instructor in the Department of Psychiatry, College of Physicians and Surgeons, Columbia University.

His salary is $27,864 annually.

Reports Fish To Fair Campaign Practices Board

Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick today revealed that he has reported Hamilton Fish, Jr. to the Fair Campaign Practices Committee for injecting an appeal to bigotry into his political campaign.

The target of Mr. Resnick's attack was a series of paid advertisements for Mr. Fish proclaiming, "Elect A Real AMERICAN." The capital letters are in the ad. In the complaint sent to Mr. Charles P. Taft, Chairman of the Fair Campaign Practices Committee, Congressman Resnick said, "This message is succinct. Its implications are clear. It has an unmistakable meaning to a particular type of mentality. These ads were run in selected areas only."

Congressman Resnick also wrote a stinging letter directly to Mr. Fish stating, "I call upon you to explain to the people of the 28th District exactly what you mean when you ask them to elect a 'Real AMERICAN.' What is a 'real American'? How are you different from other Americans? Which of the hard-working, loyal citizens of the Hudson Valley are 'real Americans,' and which are not? What about the children of immigrants; are we or are we not 'real Americans,' Mr. Fish?"

"What is more un-American than advertising yourself as a real American — with all that such a phrase is obviously intended to imply? Perhaps you should be reminded that real AMERICANS believe in fair play and judge people on their individual merits."

Mr. Fish, "It would be tragic to allow the level of political campaigning in the 28th District to return to the pre-World War II days of the Know-Nothings and the America-Firsters. These ads first appeared on October 20, and I have been patiently waiting since then for a statement from you renouncing them. You have not made one. I demand that you do so now."

Plaza Bank Is To Feature Show On Old Hyde Hall

Friends of Hyde Hall are presenting an exhibit in the Community Room, the State of New York National Banks, Kingston Shopping Plaza daily from 12-5 p. m. through Nov. 4. Historic Hyde Hall near Cooperstown was designed by Philip Hooker and took between 20 and 30 years to build. It was completed in 1833.

The picturesque beauty of the property has led to its purchase by the New York State Parks Commission. As a major feature of the new Glimmerglass State Park, the mansion must be restored and maintained. It is, however, in immediate danger of demolition unless its value can be demonstrated to the Commission.

Voting Yes on Proposition 1 would authorize $20 million for the preservation and restoration of some of the great historic sites in New York State.

250,000 Enroll In College Under 'Cold War' Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nearly 250,000 of America's "Cold War" veterans have streamed onto college campuses this fall to continue their education with the aid of the new GI Bill, officials reported today.

Settlement of the Viet Nam war and the subsequent return to civilian life of many of the 336,000 troops now committed to the conflict would send the total zooming upward, they said, perhaps causing severe overcrowding in some schools.

Under the measure—commonly known as the "Cold War GI Bill"—signed by President Johnson on March 3, honorably discharged veterans with more than 180 days active military service since Jan. 31, 1955 are eligible for educational, housing and other benefits.

The program, approved by Congress without a dissenting vote, amounts to an extension of World War II and Korean War GI benefits, but on a reduced scale.

The Veterans Administration said 211,000 October benefit checks had been mailed by last Friday to veterans enrolled in colleges, universities and other institutions—such as vocational or business schools. Files of another 35,000 applicants were being processed Monday, a spokesman said.

Officials said they expect the figure to level off at about 240,000 this school year. About 64,000 veterans attended Summer classes after the program went into effect June 1.

Believes Johnson's Journey Will Not Effect Elections

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson returns Wednesday, puffing with delight from the receptions he got on his Asian journey, but it is doubtful the 17-day trip will have much effect on next week's elections.

The story might be different if the North Vietnamese Communists had grabbed at the peace proposals put together at Manila by Johnson and the leaders of six Asian and Pacific nations. But they didn't.

Ridiculed Idea
As usual, they ridiculed the suggestions coming from this side.

Johnson had a choice before he made this trip and some day may explain why he went to the Pacific and Asia in the midst of the 1966 election campaigns instead of staying home to help his Democrats.

He may have felt he could help them more by the Manila meeting, the big peace proposal, the grand tour and the image of a busy world leader such a trip creates.

The memory of the trip, and the day-by-day headlines would be vivid in voters' minds when he did return and, in the few remaining days before the elections, put on a whirlwind campaign, as he intends to do.

Perhaps this will help more than if he had stayed home all the while.

Not Too Heated
But, as mentioned in the beginning, this is doubtful and for a reason that appears fairly simple. This is not a very heated election year to start with and probably no one, including Johnson, could set it steaming.

There are supposed to be three main issues: the war in Viet Nam, the white backlash and inflation. But how big are they?

The polls show majority backing for American involvement in Viet Nam. There may be some dissatisfaction that the United States isn't doing more, like bombing all over North Viet Nam, to win the war.

But this dissatisfaction is tempered by the realization that a big expansion of the war might bring Red China and eventually the Soviet Union into it and turn it into a world war.

Note Backlash

There can hardly be a question about the white backlash, the reaction against Negro violence. But this is probably more true in some places than in others, thus making it something less than a nationwide issue.

As for inflation, with the country as prosperous as it is, the intensity of fear and resentment about rising living costs is no doubt diluted by the money people still have in their pockets.

If this view of the elections is true—that there is a lack of intensive national feeling about the war, inflation and the backlash—then there must be an explanation for that.

There is this one: that at the moment, with high employment and a lot of money floating around, the American people as a whole at this time in history are rather complacent and politically not disturbed or concerned much.

Local Contest
If this is true, and it seems so to this writer, then many and perhaps most of the election contests for governorships and seats in Congress boil down to local, personal contests.

When Johnson, upon his return, races into one state or district after another to help a candidate, he, too, will be making his appeal more on personality than on issues.

There has been a lot of the usual hoopla about the 1966 elections but from the standpoint of excitement, enthusiasm and ideas it looks about as flabby as any in recent memory.

Booklet Available

A most informative little booklet entitled "Drug Abuse: The Empty Life," is obtainable free, from the Ulster County Association for Mental Health, 27 East O'Reilly Street, Kingston. It is designed for high school students, civic groups, and other general audiences. The booklet does not discuss the drug problem in depth, and therefore it is recommended that it be coupled with a lecture, film, or discussion, as part of an overall information program. Several films on this topic are also available free through the Ulster County Association for Mental Health, which is an agency of the Community Chest of Ulster County.

Crime Doubled In Queens While O'Connor Was DA

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, charging that crime virtually doubled in Queens County while Frank O'Connor was its district attorney, said today his opponent's election threatens "an irreparable blow to the fight against crime" across the state.

Rockefeller scored O'Connor's proposal to do away with the state's compulsory program for the treatment of narcotics addicts.

Note Responsibility

"The man the people choose as governor will have a direct effect on the fight against crime all across this state and particularly in the streets of New York," the Republican governor said.

Rockefeller produced figures contending that from 1955 to 1965—O'Connor's ten years as Queens district attorney—crime in the borough rose from 37,845 known offenses to 75,587.

Defending his mandatory treatment program, the governor said in remarks for a rally near Brooklyn Borough Hall that "my safe streets narcotics law will fight this (addiction related) crime by putting the pushers behind bars and the addicts under care."

"But Frank O'Connor's election—by his own public admission—would mean the end of the safe streets law, and that would be an irreparable blow to the fight against crime," Rockefeller said.

Can Sign Out

He quoted Rep. Joseph P. Adabbo, Democrat-Liberal, "who represents the Seventh Congressional District adjoining Mr. O'Connor's home district in Queens" as saying in Congress that: "the fact that an addict could commit himself but then turn around and sign himself out of a treatment center has been one of the greatest shortcomings of the voluntary commitment procedure."

O'Connor, he said, if elected would "go back to this hopeless voluntary system with all it means in continued crime on the streets. He would let a sick, desperate, dangerous man decide whether or not he needs treatment."

"Compulsory treatment does not mean that addicts are put in prison," he said. "It means that they are put under control and treatment in hospitals, clinics, halfway houses and the like for up to three years."

The governor reiterated his point that during the four years the state had a voluntary system of addict treatment 0 per cent of those eligible for the program turned it down."

Woman Dies of Burns

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—A 64-year-old woman who suffered burns when a medical examiner says her nightgown caught fire as she smoked a cigarette in her bed at Highland Hospital, died Monday.

The woman, Mrs. Matilda Galeota of Rochester, was under treatment for hepatitis when the accident occurred Sept. 18, a hospital spokesman said.

Her address was listed as 1 Birch Crescent.

Half of County Is Unused Land, Data Book Notes

Less than one half of the land in Ulster County is actually in use, and Ulster is the 12th largest in area of the 62 counties in New York State. This is one of the surprising facts revealed by the Ulster County Data Book recently published by the Ulster County Planning Board.

The uses considered in this estimate include home-sites, schools, shopping facilities, industries, watersheds and reservoirs, recreation areas, and agriculture.

In considering this fact, however, it must be remembered that almost 2/3 of the county is steeply sloping land, difficult to develop. Roughly 1/5 of the county is owned by the state.

Agricultural use is on the decline. In 1964, some 18 per cent of the total area was agricultural. In 1959, the agricultural use was 22 per cent while the number of farms was decreased sharply. The size of individual farms has increased and their productivity has also shown an increase. This has been accomplished by a 50 per cent decrease in the number of farm workers. At the same time the value of farm products sold has increased.

Bishop Sheen Is To Be Installed On December 15

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The Most Rev. Fulton J. Sheen will be installed Dec. 15 as bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Rochester by Francis Cardinal Spellman, of New York.

The ceremony will be held in Sacred Heart Cathedral here, the announcement Monday added.

Bishop Sheen, 71, has served as an auxiliary bishop of the New York Archdiocese and since, 1950, has been national director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith.

He has become well known nationally from his frequent television appearances. Bishop Sheen succeeds Bishop James E. Kearney, 82, who is retiring after leading the Rochester Diocese for 29 years.

Appraisers List FHA Director as Speaker Nov. 9

The Mid-Hudson Chapter 123 of the Society of Real Estate Appraisers, will hold its Nov. 9 meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Preceding the business meeting a cocktail hour will be held at 6 p. m. and a smorgasbord will be served at 6:30 o'clock sharp.

Fred J. Martin, New York State Director of Federal Housing Administration will be guest speaker. For 17 years prior to his appointment as New York State Director of Federal Housing Administration, he was engaged in the practice of general real estate brokerage, mortgage financing and real estate appraising. He also served as secretary and director of the Federal Savings and Loan Association.

He received his present appointment in August 1962 under an FHA Reorganization Plan and as state director is responsible for the supervision of the Albany, Buffalo and Hempstead insuring offices.

Martin will speak on FHA's new processing Methods and Procedures; FHA's new service to the public and industry; Recent Changes in FHA Policy Relating to Small Towns-Rural Areas and Rehabilitation of Inner City Neighborhoods! Some of FHA's New Programs and Concepts and will close with Appraisers Role—Present and Future.

Nominations and elections of

Dewey Today Enters Gubernatorial Fray

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, making his first entry into the gubernatorial campaign, warned today that the election of a Democratic administration would result in the doubling of the two per cent sales tax.

"If you want to see another two per cent tax on top of your present sales tax, here and throughout the state, the only sure way to get it is to vote for the Democratic candidates for governor or one of the splinter candidates," Dewey said.

In a speech prepared for a meeting of the Monroe County Republican Committee, Dewey said O'Connor's election would "put the state into the hands of the New York City Democratic bosses who have a long record of the highest taxes and the greatest waste of public moneys in the history of our state."

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, NOVEMBER 1, 1966

DISTRICT DELEGATES

The choice of delegates to next year's Constitutional Convention to revise the basic law of the state is one of the most important issues in the general election November 8. The results of the convention can have a long range impact in many areas including local government, taxation, education, conservation and many others.

The first State Constitution was adopted in Kingston in 1777. Since then seven Constitutional Conventions have been held. The last one was in 1938. In the interval of 27 years, the Legislature has submitted 103 proposals for the amendment of our constitution of which 86 have been approved.

Voters will choose 186 delegates, including 15 delegates-at-large and three in each of the 57 Senate Districts.

The constitution to be written by these delegates will be the basic law of our state for years to come. Our courts will be bound by the wording it contains and can only interpret, not change it.

The Republican team of three delegates for the Ulster-Dutchess area is one of capability, experienced in legal and state legislative matters. Senator R. Watson Pomeroy has been in the state legislature for 19 years. S. James Matthews and Clark Bell are lawyers and have had experience in state governmental work.

This team can give you the maximum benefit of its legal, legislative and state governmental experience.

We believe the best interests of this area will be served by electing these three Republican district delegates to the Constitutional Convention.

There is a certain amount of apathy which seems to surround this important decision. Don't neglect to vote for convention delegates. It could be the most important vote you will ever cast.

The FTC blames processors and retailers for high food prices. Knowing who's to blame is nice—and finding lower prices in the stores would be still nicer.

GIBRALTAR PROBLEM

It's difficult to liquidate an empire, even with the best of intentions. Since World War II, Britain has divested herself of more land area than Rome knew existed, yet enough bits and pieces of colonial real estate remain scattered around the world to embroil her in international squabbles.

The Falkland Islands, off the tip of South America, were the object of a Hollywood-type coup by some young Argentine nationalists recently. Now Gibraltar, one of the oldest and proudest, and once most strategic, possessions in the imperial inventory, has become the target of a Berlin-type blockade by Spain.

All trade and vehicular traffic, except for emergency vehicles, has been halted across the land frontier that connects the Rock with the Spanish mainland. Gibraltarians, fearing the next step may be a ban on pedestrian traffic and a total stoppage of the daily commuting by some 6,000 Spanish workers, are bracing themselves for they know not what.

Since May, the two governments have been attempting to negotiate Spain's demand for the return of Gibraltar, which was conquered by Britain in 1704 and ceded to her in 1713 by virtue of her victory in the War of the Spanish Succession.

The Spanish have been trying to get it back ever since, though not since the worldwide hostilities that attended the American Revolution have they attempted to do so by force.

As in the case of the Falklands, however, a major stumbling block is the embarrassing reluctance of the native population to cry, "Limeys, go home." The 26,000 Gibraltarians, who are not Spanish, have no desire to give up self-government and free press for the dubious benefits of citizenship under dictator Franco. Britain, of course, will not walk out on them.

The fate of Gibraltar is of minor concern to a world that has more than enough problems of a real crisis nature. But it does present a ticklish question of international morality. What Solomon will come forth to weigh the legitimate claims of Spain to

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

HOW OLD IS TOO OLD FOR POLITICS

In 1944 Franklin D. Roosevelt was showing his age. It wasn't considered decent to mention it in the Presidential campaign of that year, although the set expression on FDR's face as he was paraded through New York City a few weeks before election day told its own story. A few months later Roosevelt was dead.

But what if he had recovered his health after the 1944 election and had gone on to complete his fourth term? Since nobody can read the future, the ethics of making questions of health and age into campaign issues must remain forever debatable. These are things that must be played by ear.

The embarrassment of having to deal with age and with bereavement is spoiling the 1966 Senatorial campaign in Illinois. The incumbent Senator Paul Douglas, is no spring chicken. Yet if Douglas's age is mentioned, it is considered by many to be hitting below the belt. It is a two-edged issue to raise, for it could result in Douglas getting a sympathy vote. On the other hand, Douglas's opponent, Charles Percy, is bound to get a sympathy vote because of the tragic murder of his daughter. If they are to do their job honestly, the pollsters must reckon with the problem of the play of sympathy in the Illinois Senatorial race no matter how touchy it is.

In New Mexico, there is another embarrassing situation. In a trial newspaper column written by Mark Acuff and submitted to several newspapers, the charge has been made that Democratic U.S. Senator Clinton P. Anderson, who was 71 years old on October 23, is being kept off television by his handlers because his "age is beginning to show."

The column was accepted and used by an Albuquerque paper, which also based a news story on its contents. To document his column, Mr. Acuff wrote: "In a recent televised speech during the appearance of Vice President Hubert Humphrey . . . the Senator came across rather poorly. His speech was mumbled, he seemed to forget what he had meant to say, and to lose his train of thought. Many viewers complained that they couldn't understand the speech or catch many of the Senator's words."

The column has New Mexican political circles in an uproar, for its author, in a free-lance capacity, had been working part time for the Democrats editing political biographies for a campaign brochure. Acuff has denied the charge of a "conflict of interests." He insists the column was honestly objective, and that his work for the Democratic Party was on a fee basis that carried with it no obligation to refrain from having his objective say as a news commentator.

The ethics of raising the question of Senator Anderson's health is bothering Anderson's opponent, 39-year-old Andy (yes, it's for Anderson) Carter. "If the reports are true," says Mr. Carter, "it will, of course, affect my campaign planning, for I would not want in any way to take advantage of Mr. Anderson's failing health."

Mr. Carter's chivalry is understandable, but it could be misplaced. For New Mexican voters are entitled to know all about the candidates who are competing for the job of representing them in Washington. Instead of accepting mealy-mouthed or equivocal statements about health and age, voters should insist on public confrontations of their candidates. If Roosevelt had met his Republican opponent, Thomas E. Dewey, in open debate in 1944, it could have made a difference. Senator Anderson has said he is "competent to work," and if this is true it should be easy enough for him to prove it by accepting at least a few invitations for political interviews on TV.

Because of his seniority, Clinton Anderson gives New Mexico a certain amount of power in the U. S. Senate that it would lose if a younger man were to take over his office. But Anderson, who has spent most of his energies recently in fighting for his pet Medicare bill, does not confront the wide range of interests that Republican Andy Carter insists on bringing to the fore. Carter, who flies his own plane, is all over the state, a vigorous campaigner who wants to talk about money, prices, and a foreign policy based on "strength and stability." If Senator Anderson hasn't been up to keeping pace with his much younger opponent, this is a fact of life that cannot be skipped over in a matter of courtesy. The Doctor's Mailbag

Saddleblock Anesthesia Now Preferred in Labor

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I am expecting my first baby in January. My doctor uses the saddleblock anesthesia for all his deliveries. Friends have advised against this method. What are its advantages and disadvantages?

A—You have an up-to-date doctor. Many doctors now prefer saddleblock anesthesia in which the anesthetic is injected into the spinal canal. The advantages are that it permits the mother to remain awake and co-operate in delivering her baby; she can also see the baby the moment it is held up by the heels to start its breathing.

When this method was first used it was often followed by a headache for a day or two but this rarely happens with the improved technique and when it does, it can be controlled with rest and pain-relievers.

The giving of saddleblock anesthesia must be carefully timed. When given too soon it may stop the contractions of the uterus and slow the labor. When given too late it does no good. Furthermore, under some conditions—twins, breech delivery or a rapidly falling blood pressure, to name a few—some other type of anesthesia would be preferred.

Q—My sister's husband has leukemia—white spots on his legs. He had them as a boy and they didn't get any bigger but now they are appearing on his trunk. His doctor says there is no cure for it. Is it hereditary?

A—Please! Let's not confuse leukemia, which is a serious blood disease, with vitiligo, white patches on the skin. There is no evidence that vitiligo is hereditary; the cause is unknown. Patches that are not ordinarily visible may become conspicuous by contrast when exposure to the sun causes tanning of the surrounding skin. Masking stains and artificial suntan preparations have been used for this condition.

Tattooing of the involved area with gold salts may be the treatment of choice if the patches are not too large.

Methoxsalen or trioxsalen taken by mouth over a long period may be helpful but these drugs must be used only under close medical supervision and the results, when good, are transient. Some persons have found that large doses of vitamin C taken for 10 to 12 months is beneficial but this procedure is still experimental.

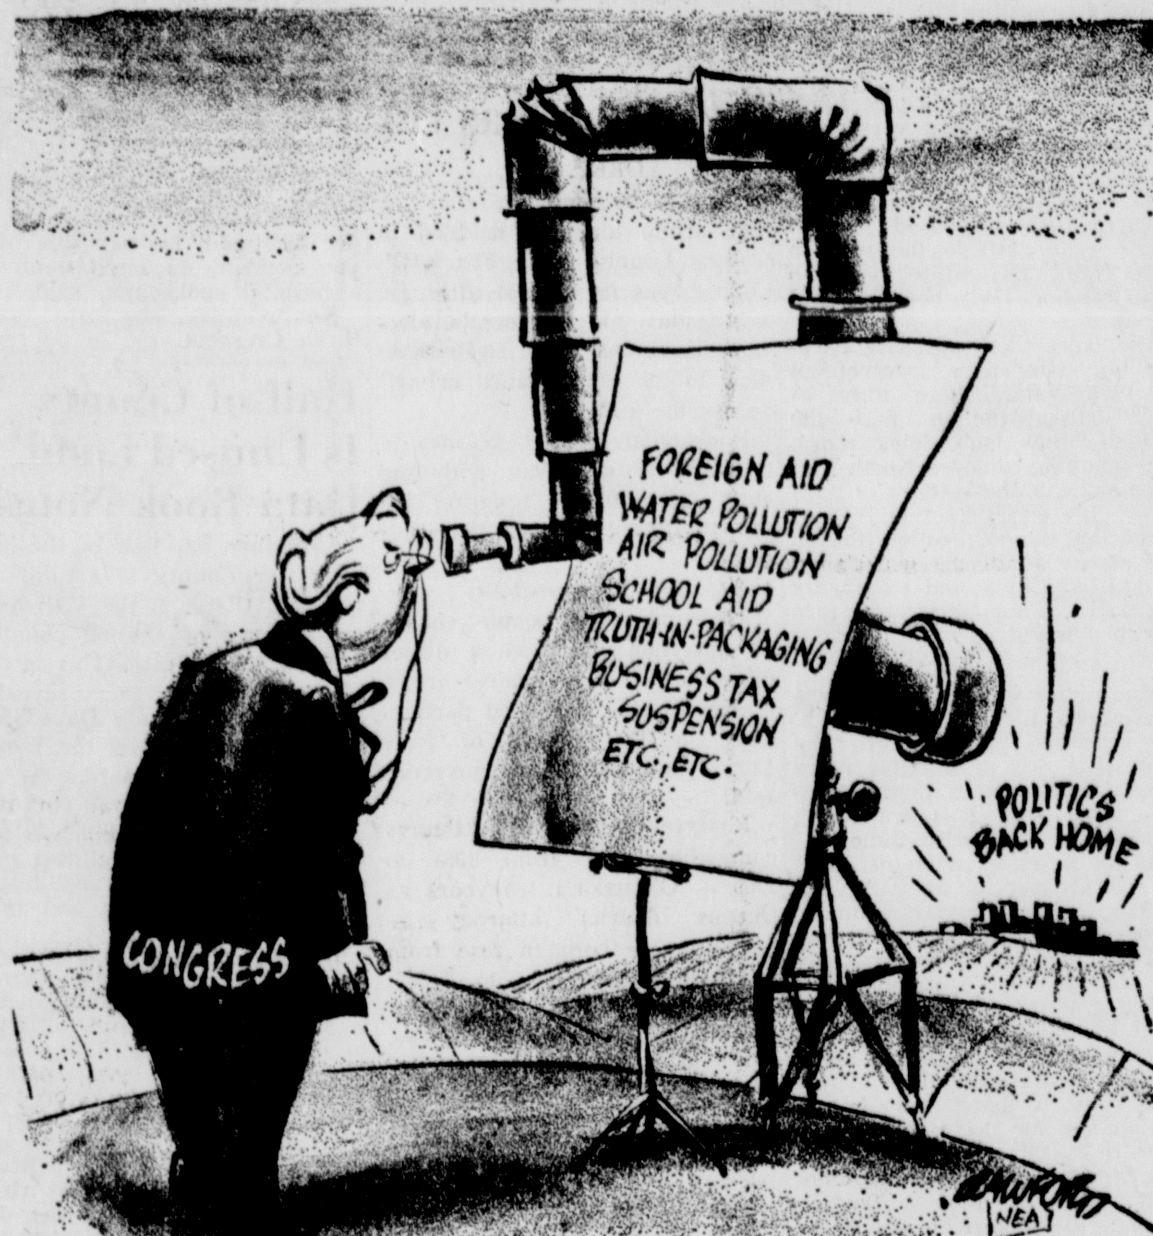

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Gibraltar against the right to self-determination of the people who now live there?

If the dispute were not over Gibraltar but over Hong Kong, and the protagonists were not Spain and Great Britain but Red China and Britain, and the issue involved not 26,000 but four million souls, the answer would be of more than merely passing interest.

A permanent artificial heart will soon be tested. We recommend it for loan sharks and income tax collectors.

Washington News

MANILA (NEA)—It is known from Viet Cong sources this reporter had access to in Viet Nam before coming to Manila for the seven-nation conference that there is a strong force within the VC which would favor a "peace" agreement with Saigon and Washington along the following lines:

First — A place for VC members in certain positions in the Vietnamese government.

The Viet Cong don't expect top posts. What they want are No. 2 and No. 3 positions or division chief spots in selected agencies.

They aim at the special bureau of the national police, defense, economic development, foreign affairs and information.

Key appointments in the special police would enable the VC to water down police anti-subversive functions and blackmail enemies of the VC. Key appointments in information and censorship would enable the VC to soften the anti-Communist line in the press, schools, and government propaganda and enable them to gradually, subtly insert pro-Communist ideas.

Key appointments in agriculture would enable the VC to control sizable parts of the U. S. aid to farmers. Farmers sympathetic to the VC would have preference.

Appointments in industrial planning would enable the VC to attempt a quick nationalization of industry.

Communists would use control of appropriate sections of the foreign affairs office to bring in squads of foreign Red advisers and technicians.

Second — The Viet Cong seek in such a "peace" agreement a great deal of local autonomy for provinces in which the Red underground is powerful.

The VC aim would be to undercut and take over these provinces by political and economic pressure combined with selective terrorism.

Third — Recognition of the Communist National Liberation Front as a legitimate political party.

Fourth — Incorporation of Viet Cong officers and troops into the Vietnamese military forces. This would enable the VC to easily infiltrate and work at subverting the army, air force and navy.

Fifth — A gradual withdrawal of U. S. and North Vietnamese mainline troops.

The above points have been pieced together from Viet Cong agents, former Viet Cong officials and Communist planning papers designed for internal Communist use.

Sees China Shot Bolstering New Alliance of U. S., Asia

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The Red China regime may have thought that its announcement of a missile test with a nuclear device would intimidate the other countries of Asia and weaken their ties with the United States. But the event will have exactly the opposite effect. It will strengthen the new alliance being formed by America with Asian countries.

President Johnson was quick to perceive the need for an immediate assurance to the friendly nations of Asia that they will have the nuclear strength of the United States behind them if any threats of nuclear warfare are made against them by Peking. Mr. Johnson, in his speech in Malaysia, warned the Red Chinese that they were inviting danger to themselves and that America would make her nuclear power available to defend Asia. This could be a deterrent against the employment of any nuclear weapons in that region just as it has been in Europe.

President Johnson, in commenting on Red China's test, said:

"The pursuit of a national nuclear capability not only makes international arms control, including a nuclear test ban and a non-proliferation treaty vastly more difficult. It also invites danger to China itself. For the leaders of China must realize that any nuclear capability they develop can — and will — be deterred."

"We have already declared that nations which do not seek nuclear weapons can be sure that they will have our strong support, if they need it, against any threat of nuclear blackmail."

The word "deterrent" has a significant application in the military vocabulary of today. It has never been sharply defined, but it can mean that, if a nuclear power shows evidence of irresponsibility and a likelihood of attack without warning, the interceptive devices of the United States could be instantly employed as a defensive measure.

President Johnson is already pointing out that it would be much better if Red China concentrated her resources on economic development, and there is every reason to believe that the United States stands ready to aid the Chinese people to attain that end. The new tests by Red China could turn out to be a salutary development. Instead of waiting five to ten years for nuclear devices to be perfected by Red China, a worldwide crusade now may be inaugurated to divert the Peking government from present policies and persuade it to direct the same energy toward constructive and peaceful objectives.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By Sophie Miller

I wonder if anyone saved one of those menus that Candyland had for their ice-cream place at 324 Wall Street run by the Savatys family. It was the place to go for the younger generation back in the 1930's. They had various shaped dishes for ice-cream sundaes, but it did not stop there. The names of the sundaes were taken from the popular sayings of the day, and were put together with fruit, creams, crackers, and such and placed before the customers with a dash and a smile. One of these sundaes was called Mutt and Jeff, taken from the comic strip. They used a tall pointed scoop of ice cream for Mutt the tall cartoon comic, and for Jeff another of ice-cream was used with a small round ice-cream scoop, and then a lot of assorted fruits and sauces went around it.

No doubt others remember Candyland well, for it was a very popular place, with an entrance on the Wall Street and Fair Street sides. Right across the street at 325 Wall Street was Reade's Kingston Theatre and of course the bus service was until about midnight. Young people could go to the movies, then across to Candyland and buy what they could afford and watch others get as fancy a sundae as they could afford. Then there was also dancing at Candyland at the Fair Street side upstairs. The proprietors were pleasant but a certain decorum was kept at all times. They knew when their customers were enjoying themselves sensibly and stopped anyone that for a moment forgot himself. It was a safe and pleasant place to go to, reasonable, and one could get a bus home. That was Kingston for the young folks in those days. Today the young people must walk home after a gathering if they do not have a ride home. There are no public service buses in the evening hours or on Sunday in Kingston, except on Friday until about 9 in the evening.

I have been noticing several people with cameras walking around the Rondout area taking pictures of the buildings with the big circle and X inside showing it is coming down. You will see these painted crossed circles right down Broadway to the Cornell Building. They are put there by those in power either in white paint or red paint. I did not hear of anyone interested to build on the Broadway East section where these buildings are coming down, but no doubt the map explains everything. Andy's Furniture store and warehouse, formerly the Stock and Cord's Furniture Store building is in the demolition block. Mrs. Lee Magalindo and her son, Benjamin of Andy's Furniture Co. of 86 Broadway are moving out of Kingston to Town of Ulster, into the former Bob Steele's building which they have decorated with a Colonial and Provincial setting, and I understand will have wall to wall carpeting to enhance the showing of their furniture. Mrs. Magalindo has been my friend and neighbor for many years and although I will miss her from the block, and they will no longer be taxpayers of Kingston still I cannot blame her for moving into a live section such as Town of Ulster.

From time to time I meet folks who lived down there and moved because of Urban Removal. Mrs. Alice Zelikman, who had Cappy's Market at 96 Broadway corner Meadow Street was at one of the shopping centers in Town of Ulster and had an old-time chat. She is now with her daughter Mrs. Mike Weiner on Washington Avenue. Mrs. Lottie Wood and her daughter visit with me. They lived across the street and in Rondout most of their lives, I guess. I see Mrs. Geraldine M. Bailey, who ran Wimpy's Tavern at 92 Broadway, a lively place in its day and old-timers still knock at the door, especially during the last firemen's parade. Perhaps someday they will have a Urban Removal Society of those who had to move during 1965-1966 so they can talk about old times down here.

Sees Candidates Encountering Apathy of Voter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Warren G. Magnuson said today candidates across the country are encountering voter apathy that may indicate little change in the political complexion of Congress.

"There are some hot spots, of course — states in which there are some real live races — but generally there seems to be a great deal of apathy among the voters," he said.

Magnuson, Washington Democrat who heads the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, indicated in a telephone interview he thinks this failure of the average citizen to respond to Viet Nam, inflation and other issues will result in very little net turnover, particularly in Senate races.

"I don't think the Senate lineup will change more than one or two votes, either way," he said. "We could gain a seat or two or we could lose one or two."

Magnuson's view that the current Senate lineup of 67 Democrats and 33 Republicans will not be altered materially was shared to an extent by Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee.

Morton told a news conference Monday he was claiming "only a modest (net) gain of three seats" in the Senate. He said he thinks the Republicans will reclaim the 38 House seats they lost in 1964 and add four or five governors to their list.

The Kentucky senator, a former GOP national chairman, predicted Republican Charles H. Percy will defeat Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas in Illinois and that GOP Sen. Robert P. Griffin will turn back the challenge of former Gov. G. Mennen Williams in Michigan.

He said he is confident that Massachusetts Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke, a Negro, will defeat former Gov. Endicott Peabody to hold the seat being vacated by GOP Sen. Leverett Saltonstall.

The Harris Survey, a copy-right private poll printed in Monday's Washington Post, reported Democrats on a nationwide basis have increased their margin in House contests in the past month but have slipped in the governorship races.

List Resolutions Passed at School Boards Meeting

Kingston School Board members have just returned from Syracuse, according to Arthur Withall, president of the board, where they attended the 47th annual convention of the New York State School Boards Association on October 23-25.

Those who attended from the local board were Mrs. Peter Corsones, Arthur Withall, Milton Reynolds and Ellsworth Johnson. Ira M. Shaw, associate superintendent of schools, also attended.

Withall was official delegate at the business session which was held last Monday of the convention.

Over 4,000 school board members and other school officials made this the largest convention of its kind in the nation. Representatives of 155 companies displaying educational exhibits at the convention rate this state convention on a par with national educational conventions.

The delegates voted to oppose the adoption of a state-wide lottery, the proceeds of which would be earmarked for education. One reason for opposition is the need for fiscal support of public education "without regard to the sources of the State's revenue."

Another important resolution which generated much discussion prior to its adoption was one opposing the use of public funds and property for nonpublic school purposes, based on the prohibition against aid to religiously affiliated nonpublic schools found in Section 3 of Article 11 of the New York State Constitution.

Other approved resolutions called for the inclusion of specific course requirements for the teaching of reading in elementary teacher certification, for a committee to testify on behalf of the Association before Constitutional Convention delegates, and support for the 1967 legislative program of the Educational Conference Board.

The New York State School Boards Association is made up of 785 local public school boards. More than 99 per cent of the public school children in the state receive their education in districts which have membership in the association. Walter L. Hunt of Unadilla was elected Association president for 1967. Everett R. Dyer is executive director and maintains offices in Albany.

How to Bid 'Swing' Hand

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

There are some good duplicate players who can't seem to win at rubber bridge. One reason may be that they concentrate too much on trifles but a more likely reason is that they get on the wrong side of swing hands.

An extra 30 points may mean a top score in duplicate play. It takes 50 such scores to balance one 1500 point swing.

South's one heart overall was correct strategy in either duplicate or rubber bridge. It seldom pays to try a takeout double with a two suit hand. Once in awhile you find yourself playing at one but nearly all the time someone keeps the bidding alive for you.

At his next turn to bid, South felt sure that he could make a heart slam against a club lead. It looked as if his partner would hold the ace of diamonds as part of his jump to three hearts but the game was rubber bridge and South did not want to have his opponents to save in spades. He merely bid four hearts.

West gave one spade raise. He held no high cards but he did have mighty good support for spades. North passed. He had told his full story and possibly a trifle more when he bid three hearts. South bid five hearts. East doubled but West took it out. North doubled that but South continued to the six hearts he had been heading for all along.

East should really have bid six spades and taken a sure moderate loss but East was looking at two ace-king-queen suits. He doubled again!

If West had led a spade South would have been down one but West had no way to know that South was void of clubs.

Asks Boycott Of Democrats

Hamilton Fish, Jr., Republican candidate for Congress, today called on housewives in the 28th Congressional District to "Boycott your Democratic Congressman on November 8, instead of your local food markets."

Fish called for the housewife boycott of his Democrat opponent after women in Dutchess County on Saturday appeared before a number of area supermarkets, demonstrating for a reduction in food prices.

"Our big-spend, Democrat rubber-stamp Congressmen is directly responsible for creating the inflationary spiral that is driving up food prices," Fish said. "The price of Federal pork-barrel legislation, and the price of pork in your supermarket are directly related. The way to break this spiral is to defeat our Congressional big spender, who says there is no inflation."

Noting that the Federal Trade Commission had tried to blame markets, and processors for the increase in food prices, Fish said: "The real blame lies with the Democrat dominated Congress which has run up the cost of living and run down the value of your dollar."

"Go home ladies," the Republican candidate said, "and join me on election day in a fight against the real offender—our Democrat rubber-stamp."

"Although he still claims there is no inflation and no increase in prices, my Democrat opponent has promised to back the proposed Democrat income tax increase," Fish said. "This tax increase will only take more money out of your pocket, to be squandered by our rubber-stamp Congress. If I am elected, I pledge to fight wasteful government spending that has resulted in these soaring prices. I also pledge that

Kingston Jaycees
October Meeting

At the recent October monthly meeting of the Kingston Jaycees, it was disclosed that the local organization would be representing the CBS, NBC and ABC Television Networks at local polling places on election night. The three major networks are extremely interested in the race for governor and in the congressional race. In order to get first hand knowledge of the results in the city of Kingston, the networks have asked the Jaycees to gather the data for them. The Kingston Jaycees will also be cooperating with station WKNY in compiling statistics on the local elections.

William J. Dederick, chairman of the Meet the Candidates Program, which was held at the J. Watson Bailey Jr. High School October 27, reported that the evening's program was a complete success. He stated that approximately 30 Kingston High School students helped during the night's proceedings.

It was also reported that several Kingston Jaycees served as judges for the annual Kingston Plaza Halloween Costume contest. Winners of the contest were presented with gift certificates by the merchants of the Kingston Plaza.

Lieutenant Lemuel Howard of the Kingston Police Department was the guest speaker at the October meeting. Lieutenant Howard gave a short lecture on the hazards of dope addiction. Usually, an individual becomes addicted at an early age. In fact, about 70 per cent of the addicts are under the age 25 he said. Lieutenant Howard stated that early addiction usually indicates poor parental guidance.

After his lecture, Lieutenant Howard showed a movie which depicted the life of a dope addict. The lieutenant indicated that this movie is available to any group interested in learning more about the hazards of dope addiction.

President of the Jaycees, John Mazzuca, welcomed to the October meeting two prospective members, Joseph Feraca and Victor Locke.

I will vote against the promised whipping Democrat tax increase. Help me fight for you, by helping me in this Congressional fight," Fish told the ladies.

Questions Often
Asked About
Chest Drives

Who approves capital fund drives for building and equipment by Chest agencies?

A very pertinent question during the present Ulster County Community Chest fund campaign for $299,600, for operating expenses for the 13 member agencies.

All capital fund drives must be approved by the Community Chest Board of Directors. The present drive is the annual campaign for operating expenses for the Chest and the agencies. An agency can spend up to $300 of operating funds each year for building and equipment. Sometimes an agency will receive a gift and it will be designated for new buildings or a certain piece of equipment. To seek funds for capital requirements requires approval of the Chest board.

The Chest has been very concerned with the number of agencies which require better buildings. Its Planning Committee has been wrestling with this problem for some time. About three years ago it "sparked" the Citizens Survey Committee of Ulster County which has been studying how both government and voluntary can work and plan together.

The Survey Committee has just released its report of recommendations which includes a Capital Funds Review Committee as part of a new concept titled United Community Services of Ulster County with responsibility in the areas of county-wide planning, budgeting, financing and public relations.

Next: Why should I give to the Chest?

Bring Dems Big Guns
Out to Help Metcalf

By WICK TEMPLE

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Democratic Sen. Lee Metcalf is depending in part in his campaign for re-election on Robert F. Kennedy, Hubert H. Humphrey, President Johnson and Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana.

That's the talk in Democratic circles in Montana, where Metcalf seeks a second Senate term, and Republican Gov. Tim Babcock hopes to unseat him. Senate Majority Leader Mansfield has hit the campaign trail for Metcalf and says he'll try to get into every county before Nov. 8.

Sen. Kennedy of New York, visited Great Falls, Butte and Billings plugging hard for Metcalf. Johnson is expected to dedicate a dam in southeastern Montana Nov. 5 and drop in a few words about Metcalf, Vice President Humphrey spoke at the University of Montana in Missoula.

Most important is Mansfield, whose power at the polls is unquestioned. He is campaigning on a "keep the Democratic team working for Montana's platform."

But no one, least of all Metcalf, is underrating Babcock, who has strong support in rural areas and has mounted an expensive, thorough-going campaign.

Babcock, an outspoken conservative, won his four-year term in the governor's office by 7,251 votes in 1964, when President Johnson carried Montana in a landslide.

Since Montana has a record registration of 330,182 and since many ballots are counted by hand, the outcome of the race may not be known until 12 to 16 hours after the polls close.

FCC Gets Bid for 2

Asks Banks' Aid
To Supply Credit
Needs of Business

Acting on a recommendation of his Cabinet Committee on Credit, Governor Rockefeller announced today that he had written to the chief executive officer of every bank, savings and loan association and insurance company in New York State urging them to assign "top priority" to the credit needs of New York businessmen, New York homeowners, New York consumers and New York municipalities in their current lending activities.

In his letter Governor Rockefeller stated that by "lending New York first, you will be recognizing as I do, the significant contribution which these borrowers can make, when adequate funds are available, to a growing New York economy."

"It would seem to me," Governor Rockefeller added, "that in a period of tight money, New York borrowers are entitled to every possible consideration in the new loans your institution is making."

Today's Business Mirror

By JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Next to the chance of winning, the question that most often concerns entrants in games, contests and sweepstakes is whether or not the promotion is honestly conducted.

The possibilities of fraud and deception do exist, but the people who produce the games that now flood the mails and greet shoppers at supermarkets and gasoline stations say they do everything possible to assure honesty.

Few Violations

"Our existence depends upon this," said one game producer who devised many of the consumer contests for manufacturers and retail outlets.

The Post Office Department has statutory authority to investigate complaints. But, said a spokesman, "there are few violations. The people who sponsor these contests are responsible."

Another concern of the Post Office is the possibility of lottery, which exists if a PAYMENT is given for a CHANCE to win a PRIZE. If payment is not required, a lottery doesn't exist.

This explains why some companies must state on their sweepstakes that purchase—payment—is not required to enter or win. If the company required that you buy the product to enter, then a lottery would exist. National lotteries are illegal under U.S. law.

Contest promoters attempt to assure honesty by restricting to only a few persons any knowledge of prepacked winning entries. The reasoning is that wherever the human factor exists,

Credit, which was recently appointed by Governor Rockefeller to seek out the causes of credit stringency and to submit recommendations designed to protect the interests of New York homeowners, workingmen, small businessmen and contractors, consists of Frank Wille, State Superintendent of Banks; Keith S. McHugh, State Commerce Commissioner; Henry Root Stern, State Superintendent of Insurance; and James W. Gaynor, Commissioner of Housing and Community Renewal.

Can't Always Show Proof

In a number of sweepstakes, for example, the company that devises the game knows the winning numbers. But the client, a toothpaste manufacturer for example, isn't supposed to know. Neither is the company that does the mailing.

Nevertheless, for proof of honesty, promoters usually must ask that you accept their integrity, their reputation, their own self-interest in honesty. "We can't always show you proof," one said.

Another explains his method this way. The game is a numbers sweepstakes in which the winning numbers are prepacked and then mailed. The entry is to be returned to the sponsoring company or store.

"Assume," he said, "that one million numbers are to be mailed. We receive one million preprinted coupons from the printer. We then superimpose the contest numbers in sequence by a numbering device."

Use Computer, Not Bowl
"Then we toss the numbers

into an electronic fishbowl. We don't really use a bowl. We use an electric computer which picks the winners by random choice. We now have matched the number to the prize.

"The winning numbers then go into a vault. We don't tell the sponsoring company. Nor do we tell the mailer. We pick the numbers, but since we don't do the mailing we're not able to choose who'll get these numbers. "Up to this time, nobody outside our company knows the lucky numbers. We may, however, send a key or code to the sponsor to aid him in sorting returns. The code would help identify possible winners from nonwinners."

"Once in a while," he said, "a contest has only one winning number. There might be 1,000 copies of this number and 1,000 winning numbers, all identical, are slipped at random among nonwinners."

"What prevents the inserter from pocketing a winner? The inserting is made by an executive. He's bonded for $250,000. And he's paid enough so he isn't inclined to steal."

hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise:
Here is a real time and work-saver for gals like me who have to starch and iron those cotton twill uniforms or any type of starched trousers.

I wash my husband's trousers as usual, and put them on trouser creasers—being sure to have the seams together.

I then hang them on the line and get my trusty can of spray starch and spray the legs (while THOROUGHLY damp) on BOTH sides of the crease with as heavy or as light a starch as I desire.

When I take them off the line, I remove the creasers and the legs are beautifully starched and creased.

Then, all it takes is just a minute or two, and a few more sprays of starch to complete the ton of the trousers at the ironing board.

Bettsi Outland

Folks, Bettsi is right about spraying the trousers while they are still thoroughly damp.

The fibers of the twill cloth are soaked through after washing. The starch soaks in better this way.

Man-on-Run Is Still Good Bet For Video Shows

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — For sheer flexibility it is hard to beat the man-on-the-run theme for a television series.

This has been demonstrated for several seasons by ABC's "The Fugitive," and NBC's "Run for Your Life," both created by Roy Huggins.

Dr. Kimble of "The Fugitive" is an innocent man convicted of murder who is running from the authorities while searching for the real killer. Each week he is almost caught, but we know that he'll get away at the last second just as we know who will win the shoot-out in the Western.

Has Larger Scope

"Run For Your Life" is pegged on the grisly premise of a man with a medical death sentence trying to crowd a lot of living into the time he has left.

This one has more freedom and larger scope in the plots. One week we encounter the hero, Paul Bryan, in a dinner jacket at a chic penthouse party and the next he is crawling through a tropical jungle.

Most of the time he is saving a pretty girl. The principle action comes from new characters encountered each week.

Some programs are better than others, which is true of all series which have many contributing script writers. Monday night's episode was not one of the best, moving at a snail's pace in spite of an enormous amount of shooting, saber rattling and a vicious fight.

The hero was in an unidentified banana republic for the marlin fishing, went to the aid of a pretty girl in a bar and then, accompanied her on a long jungle hike to the mountain lair of a rebel leader.

One of Best Offerings

The idea was to set the girl's father, an American novelist, to leave the rebel camp since a revolution was pending. The slow-down came with a lot of pretentious talk about whether the rebel leader was an idealist or an embryonic Castro and even more about a writer's "commitment."

Ben Gazzara plays the hero with a quiet irony which is often highly effective but a little more emotion might have picked up Monday night's show. Week in and week out, however, it is one of television's superior offerings.

I have washed them every way I know how but the juice stains will not come out.

A Mother

Dear Mother:

First kiss that darling child and then try the following:
When fruit juice is set by heat or age, sometimes it is impossible to remove completely. Nevertheless, run cool water through the stain and soak the garment overnight in cool water.

If the stain remains, rub neutral (non-alkaline) synthetic detergent into it. Then rinse in cool water.

If the stain is still there, use chlorine or sodium perborate, or hydrogen peroxide bleach.

Be sure to TEST the liquids on a hidden spot of the garment first to see if they are applicable to your material.

Follow directions and CAUTIONS on the bottles.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

To repair holes in papa's trouser pockets, save the good rear pockets from discarded trousers, cutting them off as long as possible.

Cut off and discard the end of the pocket to be repaired. Then sew the section of back pocket to the side pocket, making sure the seam is on the outside, not inside, of pocket.

Quick and easy.

Newcombe Is Against Lottery

State Senator Lloyd A. Newcombe (R) stated today, "in recent weeks, I have received many inquiries, as to my position on the State Lottery and in view of the fact that this question will be decided by the people of the state on Election Day, I would like, at this time, to re-state my views on the matter."

"Many of you will remember," the Senator continued, "when this issue came to the Senate floor for a vote that I opposed its passage and I am still of that same opinion. Basically, I feel that the establishment of a State Lottery is a bad precedent because it will eventually result in the spread of other forms of gambling. Further, lotteries generally appeal to those who can ill-afford to spend the money which certainly does not improve their economic situation but most particularly, it seems to me that funds raised from a State Lottery which would be used for educational purposes would create a bad atmosphere in which to raise our children."

The Senator, who is a member of The Committee of One Hundred, Thousand which opposes the State Lottery concluded, "It is for these reasons that I intend, once again, to vote against Amendment 7."

Technical Changes Has Problems for Farmers

HAMBURG, N.Y. (AP)—Although the rapid pace of technical change is creating problems for farmers, the state agriculture commissioner says, all changes should not viewed as harmful.

Commissioner Don J. Wickham made that observation Monday night at a dinner session of the 94th annual convention of the State Grange, meeting in this community south of Buffalo.

Noting that most of the 750 delegates and guests were over 50 years of age, Wickham told them: "The world into which you were born is gone."

Earlier Monday, Russell Curtis, State Grange master and a

Cazenovia dairy farmer, told members of the agricultural organization that the continued loss of family farms would lead to higher food prices for the consumer. He explained:

"There will either be a food shortage or industrial-type farming will take place, with organized labor (and) dividends to stockholders, all resulting in higher prices for food, which I believe would be something just short of disaster."

Although most farm prices are not as high as they were 25 years ago, Curtis said, production costs have risen so much that "it is easy to see why so many farmers are going out of business and taking advantage of higher incomes elsewhere."

Car Kills Daughter, Mother Struck Later

BATH, N.Y. (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy J. La Faye crouched Monday over the lifeless form of her 2-year-old daughter on Route 70 in front of their home northwest of here.

The child, Virginia, had died beneath the wheels of an automobile.

Moments later, police said, another car struck Mrs. La Faye, 42, inflicting critical skull and shoulder fractures. She was taken to Ira Davenport Hospital in Bath.

Virginia, was hit apparently as she tried to cross the road behind an older brother and sister, police said.

Burglar Braves Watch Lioness Guarding House

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — The burglar who cut through a screen to get into Michael Fair's home probably didn't know about Kamou, the watch lioness who was lounging alone inside.

The intruder scooped up $200 worth of guns, a radio, record player and clothing.

"Then I think Kamou scared him," Fair told police Monday. "He left the back door open and also the gate."

Kamou left, too. Within minutes, startled residents of the quiet northwest Mesa neighborhood were telephoning police late Sunday night.

The barking of his dog aroused H.D. Hedgpeth, and he went outside to see his five-pound Chihuahua attacking Kamou, a 140-pounder. The dog was sent rolling with a slap of the lioness' paw.

Hedgpeth said, "There was the lion staring at me, its eyes shining in the dark."

Soon after, police had leashed the lioness. They took her to a veterinary hospital, but it lacked proper facilities for an 11-month-old lion, so they allowed Fair to take her home with a warning to keep his pet behind doors.

"It's had all its shots, and Fair has a license for it," an officer said.

Fair, 31, said Kamou had been declawed and her teeth filed. Normally, the lioness stays in a compound behind the house. Fair left her in the house Sunday as a guard.

Because of her size, Fair has been planning to give her to the Phoenix Zoo.

"But I'm going to keep her as long as she doesn't give me trouble," he said. "It wasn't her fault that she escaped."

And he is not blaming her for letting the burglar escape with the goods.

Troopers Charge Man With First Degree Robbery

Charged with robbery first degree in connection with the alleged beating and robbing of a Napanoch man on the night of Sept. 24 on Cape Road about four miles from Ellenville, Edward Steve Kopec, 26, was arrested Sunday by authorities at Bath.

Kopec, who is also known as Edward Kaye and Edward Czynewski, waived preliminary examination before Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel, Town of Wawarsing. He was committed to the county jail pending grand jury action.

The defendant is accused of assaulting and robbing Joseph Irwin, 55, of Napanoch, and taking his wallet containing about $400 in cash and his automobile. The car was recovered at Kearny, N. J., on Oct. 3, according to BCI Investigator Michael Bonney of the Ellenville State Police detail.

Irwin told authorities the night of the assault-robbery, that he picked up the man he knew as Kaye and drove along Cape Road, supposedly to take the defendant home. Kopec allegedly beat Irwin with his fists and drove away with the 1962 car and the victim's wallet.

Dear Abby . . .

Poor Kid Can Take Care of Himself

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem may seem petty to others, but it is big to me. My husband is at home recovering from a serious operation which he had three months ago. Two out-of-town friends have come to visit my husband. They asked to use our telephone, and I OK'd it, not realizing they were going to make long distance calls.

One made two calls which totaled $20 and the other made one long distance call amounting to $16. Both men can well afford to pay for their calls.

My husband is self-employed, there is no sick pay coming in and his illness has been very costly. The $36 would definitely put a strain on our budget. Please advise.

ON THE SPOT
DEAR ON: Under the circumstances, write these "friends" a note, telling them you are sure they would want to be reminded of the long distance calls they made at your home, and include a copy of the bill.

DEAR ABBY: I know you must get billions of letters every day so my letter will probably go unread and unanswered. It is really important to me, as I know lots of teen-age girls my age with this problem, and it might even help some of the boys who read it, too.

Whenever I walk down the street, boys in cars stop and honk, etc. Some of them are very nice and quite cute, but if a girl stops and talks to them, or goes for a ride with them, she gains a reputation as a pick-up.

On the other hand, if she doesn't, the boys consider her a stuck-up snob. Which would be better, to stop and be sociable or to act like a snob.

SOCIABLE PICK-UP
DEAR SOCIABLE P. U.: One of the first things a mother teaches a little girl who is old enough to walk down the street alone is, "Don't talk to strangers, or ever get into a car with one!" Whether the girl is 6 or 16, the advice is still good. To ignore invitations from strangers in automobiles to socialize is not snobbish, it's sensible.

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700 Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, inclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

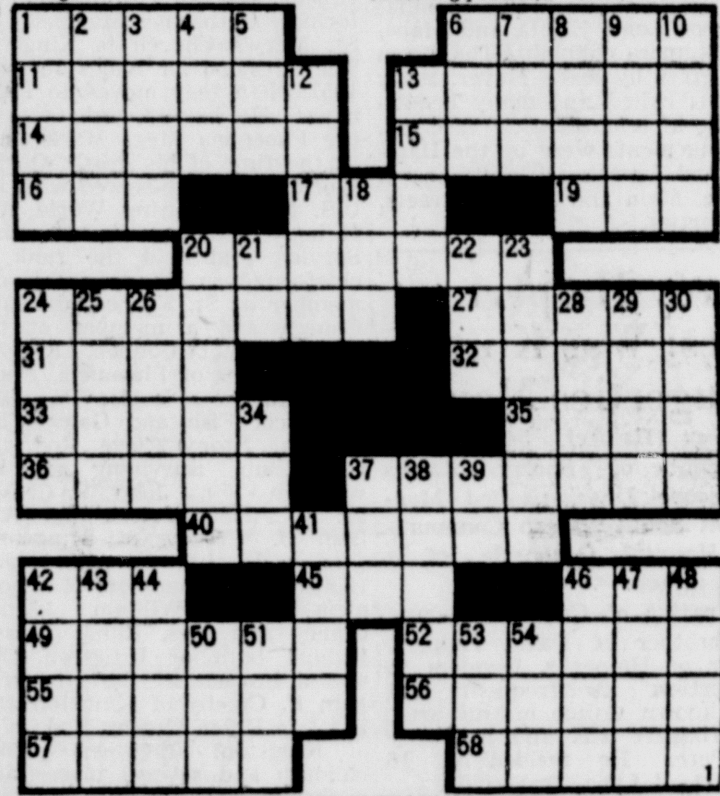

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1.00 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif.

$235.8 Million Pact Awarded on Guided Missile

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has awarded a production contract for an air-to-ground guided missile designed to be carried within 50 miles of enemy defenses. It's a shorter-range relative to the Skybolt missile, on which the government spent more than $500 million before Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara scrapped the project. He doubted whether Skybolt could be accurate over its planned 1,000-mile route.

The contract, including $93.5 million for production of an unspecified number of missiles, was awarded to Boeing Co. of Seattle, Wash. The other $142.3 million is for development.

President Johnson announced plans for the SRAM missile in January 1965. SRAM stands for short range attack missile. He called it a major new development in strategic weaponry.

Skybolt was supposed to blow holes in enemy defense lines to create penetration corridors for nuclear bombers.

SRAM, also a ballistic missile but less complicated, would be carried on the FB111, a fighter bomber due for operation by 1970, the scheduled phase-out date of certain models of the B52 bomber.

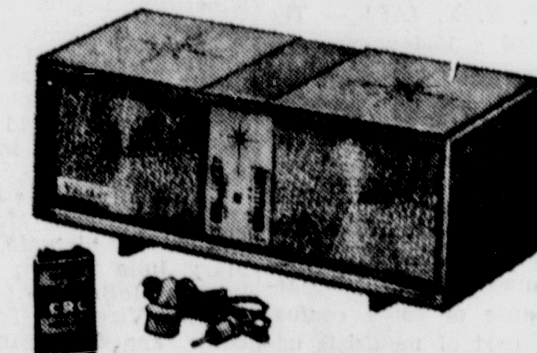

The plane could carry as many as 40 SRAMs.

Wilson Cites State Action On Sales Tax

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson of Ulster County announced today at the suggestion of Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller the president of the New York State Tax Commission, Joseph H. Murphy, has instituted a major change in the State sales tax regulations which was designed to assist many of the State's smaller businesses with the problems of tax reporting.

According to the Assemblyman, a new order was just issued by the Department of Taxation and Finance which will allow any business which collects $250 or less in sales tax revenue a year to file their sales tax returns on a quarterly basis, rather than quarterly. Wilson said this will mean that three tax return forms a year will be completely eliminated for about a quarter of a million small businesses throughout the State. The Assemblyman added that information on this major change has already been mailed to business firms in all parts of New York State.

The Ulster County Assemblyman further said Gov. Rockefeller recently announced he would also request new legislation next year, which would make the keeping of sales tax records even simpler for almost every businessman in the State. The Governor's proposed legislation would allow any firm which does less than $500,000 a year in taxable sales to compute their tax on the total volume of sales, rather than on each individual transaction, Wilson said, and many other Republican legislators from up-state New York, have urged the passage of legislation of this type to relieve some of the bookkeeping problems of the small businessman, and added that a series of Republican sponsored sales tax reforms were killed this year by the Democrat-controlled State Assembly.

The Assembly added that if the proposed legislation is approved, the larger concerns which do over a half a million dollars a year in taxable sales would be allowed the choice of computing their tax on either an individual sale basis or by applying a system of effective rates to their annual sales.

Assemblyman Wilson pledged his full support of the proposed legislation to simplify sales tax returns, and added that he would go even further by again offering legislation to allow businessmen to deduct a percentage of tax money to reimburse them for any added bookkeeping costs caused by the sales tax.

No Charge Filed

No charges were filed and he said, no other vehicle was involved.

Aldrich Sounds Call for Support Of GOP Ticket

Following is a statement released today by Alexander Aldrich, defeated candidate for the 28th Congressional District race in the Republican Primary:

"In June, when the Republican voters of the 28th Congressional District chose Hamilton Fish Jr., to carry our standard, I pledged him my full support in his campaign. Since that time, I have been working quietly for the election and re-election of all Republican candidates.

"In the closing days of this campaign, I cannot remain silent. I have seen too much. I have seen a great Governor and his team opposed by petty men and endangered by lethargy, misunderstanding and opposition from within our own party. I have seen a minor Queens District Attorney threaten to bring the big city bosses to sit in the Capitol and run the affairs of our State for their own selfish interests. I don't know anybody in this district who wants this to happen, but there are many who would risk it by their inactivity and many more who don't seem to care.

"The time has come for all the people who care about greatness in government to face the issues, make their decision and then do something about it! We must all examine the Republican solutions to the problems we face—in education, water pollution, commercial growth and all the other challenges of this difficult world—and then decide if we really think that the 'bosses' can do it better. If the answer is 'NO,' then let us unite in support of Nelson Rockefeller, Malcolm Wilson, Charles Langan, Louis Lefkowitz, Hamilton Fish Jr. and every one of the legislative, local and constitutional convention candidates. They need our active help and support — let's give it to them.

commit arson. Prosecutor Howard Cerny asked for high bail because these people were acting in utter disregard for the lives of their neighbors.

Defense attorney F. Courts Bouse labeled the arrests "an election gimmick" but Cerny denied the charge. Queens Dist. Atty. Nat H. Hentel, an appointee of Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, is seeking election to a full term next Tuesday.

Hearing Set Nov. 22
Cerny told Judge Bernard Dubin that the mass of evidence and the number of defendants precluded an immediate trial. Hearings were set for Nov. 22.

Hentel said Monday that Syracuse police had seized the records of Milton Kellogg, 38, whom he identified as "the man we believe to be the eastern regional director" of the Minutemen.

He stressed that Kellogg was not being sought in the case which has been under investigation since January.

However, State Police announced later that Kellogg had voluntarily surrendered and been arraigned in the Town of Coxsack, near Syracuse, on charges of possession of hypodermic needles and syringes. He was freed on $1,000 bail for a Dec. 7 hearing.

According to Hentel the three camps to have been blown up Sunday were the Unity Camp in Ringwood, N.Y., Camp Midvale in Ringwood, N.J., and a peaceful camp in or near Voluntown, Conn.

Hentel said the Minutemen group is dedicated to destroying "Communist, left-wing and liberal" installations of any kind.

Rocky Grants 15 Days Extension On Registration

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The state granted a 15-day extension today to motorists who have not yet renewed vehicle registrations that expired at midnight Monday.

Motor Vehicle Commissioner William S. Hults said he was extending the deadline to Nov. 15 at the request of Gov. Rockefeller, because of some confusion on the part of motorists unfamiliar with the state's new staggered registration system.

In the past, all registrations expired at the same time, on Feb. 1 annually. But under the new system, about 900,000 registrations lapsed Oct. 31 and had to be renewed. Approximately the same number will expire each month through March.

Report Mounting Anti-Americanism Feeling in Guinea

ACCRA, Ghana (AP) — Anti-Americanism is reported mounting in Guinea following the refusal of Ghana's government to release a Guinean delegation held hostage in Accra.

Guinea charged that the United States had a hand in the detention of the 19 Guinean diplomats and students who were taken off a plane Saturday night when it stopped in Accra en route to a meeting of the Organization of African Unity in Ethiopia.

Ghana cleared the United States of any complicity and the U.S. State Department denied it played any part in the affair. But a broadcast from Guinea said 50,000 persons paraded in front of the U.S. Embassy in Conakry, the capital, Monday shouting "Down with the Yankees" and "Yankies get out of Africa."

A U.S. State Department spokesman, Carl Bartsch, said in Washington that anti-American demonstrators also invaded the U.S. ambassador's residence in Conakry, breaking windows and some furniture.

Hold Teeners After Halloween Killing

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A 10-year-old boy, running home with a sack of Halloween "trick-or-treat" goodies, was shot to death and two teen-agers are being held, police said.

Robert James Tucker was killed Monday night while he and another 10-year-old, William Thomas, were going home. The shooting climaxed what police said was one of the most destructive and violent Halloween nights on record for the city. Other incidents involved bricks, rocks and eggs being hurled at automobiles and homes.

W. A. McBride Dies; Retired Drug Store Owner

William Ambler McBride Sr., 73, of Ulster Landing, died this morning at Kingston Hospital after a short illness.

Mr. McBride had been a well known pharmacist in this area having owned drug stores on both Wall Street and Broadway. He retired in 1952.

He was a member of St. John's Episcopal Church, Kingston Lodge No. 10, F&AM, Roundout Commandery Knights Templar No. 52, Mount Horeb Chapter No. 75 and the Albany Sovereign Consistory, SPMS, Cyprus Temple and the Ulster County Shrine Club. He was a member of American Legion Post 150 of Kingston, Mendelssohn Club and the Catskill Glee Club.

Mr. McBride was a graduate of Columbia University and served during World War I as a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army.

A son of the late Charles and Henrietta Ambler McBride, he is survived by his wife, the former Mary Julia Swann; a son, William A. McBride Jr.; a daughter, in-law, Virginia Tomassi McBride, and two granddaughters, Kathleen and Patricia McBride, all of Philadelphia, Pa.

Funeral services will be held at the Keyser Funeral Service, Kingston, Chapel, Albany and Manor Avenues, Friday 11 a. m. The Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, rector of St. John's Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Wiltwyck Cemetery. Friends may call at the Kingston Chapel Wednesday 7 to 9 and Thursday 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Sheppard Jury To Visit Scene Of 1954 Slaying

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Samuel H. Sheppard's jury to the murder of his first wife today visits the suburban lake-front home where the couple once lived and where she died in 1954 with 27 bone-deep gashes in her head.

Their view of the scene will be followed with opening court arguments in Sheppard's second-degree murder retrial, now in its second week. His original jury conviction 12 years ago was upset by the U.S. Supreme Court.

The Sheppards' home now is owned by a lawyer, John R. Hull, who has agreed to inspection of the premises by the seven male and five women jurors.

It was in an upstairs bedroom that the body of Marilyn Sheppard, then 31 and four months pregnant, was found the morning of July 4, 1954. Sheppard, 42, said she was slain by a bushy-haired stranger who knocked him unconscious.

The state says Sheppard beat his wife to death during a quarrel over his alleged relations with another woman. Sheppard served nine years in prison before last June's Supreme Court decision ordering a retrial.

A flurry of publicity marked the close of Monday's trial session.

Ends Its Association With Bellevue Hospital

NEW YORK (AP) — Cornell University is ending its 68-year-old association with Bellevue Hospital, and the move will cost the hospital one-quarter of its physicians.

The 2,500-bed municipal hospital already had planned a gradual one-quarter reduction in the number of patients. There was no indication of the immediate effect of Cornell's withdrawal which was disclosed Monday night.

New York University provides one-half and Columbia University one-quarter.

No timetable has been set for Cornell's withdrawal. Cornell already has discontinued its neurosurgery program at the hospital. Resident physicians in the hospital have been notified that the program will be disbanded July 1. Bellevue officials said Monday.

City Hospitals Commissioner Joseph V. Terenzio said Cornell's departure was "by mutual consent."

But Dr. Howard J. Brown, the city's health Services Administrator, proposed in a letter to Cornell officials 10 days ago that the university withdraw from Bellevue.

Terenzio said Monday night that administration of the hospital by three medical schools had proved "unworkable."

He said Cornell's withdrawal would eliminate duplication of services.

Cornell's major teaching hospital is New York Hospital-Columbia is Presbyterian Hospital and New York University is Bellevue.

Syracuse Bus Strike
SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Approximately 320 drivers and mechanics for the Syracuse Transit Corp. planned to walk off their jobs today, leaving about 40,000 daily users of the bus service without public transportation.

At the same time, striking members of Local 380, Amalgamated Transit Union, scheduled a meeting with company officials to discuss a three-year contract offer.

Company spokesmen said the buses carry about 600 passengers daily, plus more than 4,000 school children under a contract for the city.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

By JIM GILPATRICK

At election time, and up to the very minute you cast your vote, the influence of other people has had some sort of effect on you. Remember that. It's important! And if you have ever thought the people in government exercise too much influence, remember another thing. Government is one thing and one thing only, PEOPLE! If and when we think people in government have too much influence, we have ourselves to blame. We, the voters, have far more influence than they. OUR votes influence THEM.

The best way NOT to influence the people in government is simply to stay away from the polls. But, when you DO vote, whether it be for men or issues, you cast YOUR influence. Obviously, before you can influence people in government, you have to influence yourself to vote.

The attempted influence by others before election can be accepted or rejected by you. When you stand in front of the silent, secret voting booth or in front of the whirling voting machine, YOU are the one who is doing the influencing. Be an influential! VOTE! Cast YOUR influence!

spray on the windows, window sills and door of his white home. "And that was after we had passed over 60 bags of candy out among these kids," he added ruefully.

Other property destruction, besides the large number of windows broken in uptown and downtown stores, included the slashing of the convertible top of a car owned by Mrs. Patricia Boughton as it was parked on Downs Street. The radio antenna was also broken from the car, police said. The damage was reported at 12:50 a.m.

In Rosendale, three youths accused of throwing eggs at a car were fined a total of $150 by Justice of the Peace Daniel McMonagle. Town of Rosendale. They were charged with malicious mischief.

Arrested

Bruce Turner, 20, High Falls; Ronald Dunnwald, 21, Accord; and Wayne Cummins, 19, Accord, were charged by Percy Smith with throwing eggs at his vehicle. They were arrested by Trooper Thomas Searles, Kingston State Police.

The fines, $50 for each youth, were paid by Turner and Dunnwald. Cummins, however, was unable to pay the fine and was committed to the Ulster County Jail, police said.

Saugerties Special Town Officer Charles Riley reported Halloween mischief was at a minimum with the worst incident being a Barclay Heights home hit by eggs. The Town Police had four patrols cruising around the township.

In the village store windows were marked with soap, chalk and shaving cream. Riley said the young people should be highly commended for their restraint.

Village Police Chief Gordon Keeley said it was fairly quiet in the village with no property damage reported.

Fires Reported

Firewise, city firemen responded to three city calls last night and one early today—all involving brush or leaves and all of undetermined origin.

Last night, firemen directed by Deputy Glyn Southard were called at 8:11 p.m. to Albany Avenue near the cemetery to extinguish a brush fire. Firemen were summoned again at 8:57 o'clock to a leaf fire at Hasbrouck Park, which was out when they arrived; and at 9:30 to extinguish flames in leaves on railroad tracks along Albany Avenue.

This morning's fire, reported by a Fair Street resident who said flames were "pretty high," was extinguished by Engine 2 firemen directed by Lt. Philip Greer. The fire, reported at 8:30 a.m., occurred at St. James and Fair Streets, firemen said.

Report County Quiet

According to the Sheriff's Department, however, county Halloween incidents were at a minimum. A spokesman said late this morning that a report of stolen garbage cans in Hurley was the only incident reported so far by patrolling deputies.

Three Are Injured In Uptown Mishap

Three women were injured in a chain-reaction accident last night on Pearl Street, according to city police.

The injured included Mrs. Marie Pavlidis, 26, of 25 Janet Street, treated at Benedictine Hospital for an injury to her right ankle; Josephine O'Bryon, 37, Saugerties, taken to Kingston Hospital complaining stomach pains; and Mrs. Lottie White, 38, of East Chester St. by-pass, treated at Kingston Hospital for head and chest injuries.

Police said the accident occurred as a car operated by Katherine Bates, 20 Harding Avenue, stopped on Pearl Street, and the car operated by Mrs. Pavlidis came to a stop behind her. The third vehicle, operated by Mrs. O'Bryon, struck the rear of the Pavlidis vehicle. Police said Mrs. O'Bryon claimed she did not see the stopped car.

The accident report listed Mrs. White as a passenger in one of the vehicles but did not specify which car.

Was at Pentagon

Boeckenhaupt, stationed at the Pentagon from April 1964 to August 1965, allegedly met secretly with Malinin in June 1965 and April 1966. He had enlisted in the Air Force in 1960 at the age of 17.

The FBI did not disclose whether any money was involved in the alleged meetings, nor whether any information was actually passed.

Agents also refused to say what Boeckenhaupt's duties were at the Pentagon, although he was a communications repairman at March.

The FBI said Boeckenhaupt met with Malinin in June 1965, in an Arlington, Va., suburb where Malinin questioned the serviceman about his duties at the Pentagon.

The men reportedly met again in a bowling alley parking lot last April, and Malinin gave Boeckenhaupt a 35mm slide that pinpointed "drop areas" and meeting places, the FBI said.

Denies Guilt

Boeckenhaupt lives with his wife near March Air Force Base. Agents said his apartment was searched with the sergeant's consent last week.

U.S. Commissioner Russell R. Herman, set a preliminary hearing on the case for Nov. 18. "I'm not guilty," the tall, dark-haired sergeant told newsmen.

Malinin, 45, came to the United States Sept. 12, 1963 and was assigned to the Soviet Embassy two months later.

Commenting on the bridge, the Rosendale supervisor said, "One of the first things that has to be done on a project such as this is to get a cost estimate. There have been other drives started to save the bridge but they all bogged down due to lack of cost estimates. You can't very well start a fund-raising campaign unless you know how much you need."

Another prominent area name was added to the growing list of dignitaries on the Citizen's Committee to Save Perrine's Bridge, when Hamilton Fish Jr., of Millbrook volunteered his services.

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson's office also is working on the project. John Marquardt, Wilson's aide, said he is seeking a prominent area lawyer to assist the Committee with its problems of incorporation and any other legal problems which might occur in the future.

make an average profit of 1.3 per cent and spend 2 per cent on advertising and promotion.

"Passing of both profits and advertising and promotion costs back to consumers in the form of across-the-board price reductions would give shoppers a 3.3 per cent decrease in prices, or about 33 cents on a $10 purchase," he said.

"And eventually this would force the stores out of business," he added.

California Gov. Edmund G. Brown pegged the cost of stamps and games as "at least a week's groceries a year." That would be about 2 per cent.

Brown, a Democrat seeking re-election, announced he was sending the state's consumer council to testify before the Federal Trade Commission, which announced an investigation of food prices.

"These rates are turning supermarkets into casinos."

Two Republicans, however, agreed with Adams that the real cause of rising prices is inflation.

Brown's opponent, Ronald Reagan, said federal fiscal policies are to blame for inflation and added: "It is unfortunate to go to a market place and try to control this (food prices) by boycotting."

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said in Lancaster, Pa., that housewives should picket the White House instead of the supermarket.

Brown Named

rize Spada's Sport Shop, 594 Broadway.

Patrolman Albert Brown heard the sound of glass being shattered at the sport shop and rushed to the scene to find gaping hole in the plate glass doorway and, according to Brown's report, Frank J. Torrisi, 20, pointing a 16-gauge shotgun at him.

Brown fired his service revolver at Torrisi but the bullet deflected off the thick glass and missed the suspect, who ducked behind a counter.

Brown then ordered Torrisi to come out with his hands up. Torrisi surrendered as did his alleged accomplice, George L. Greenidge, 16, of 64 Van Buren Street.

Police Commissioner Elmhurst said that Brown's act of valor was accomplished without outside help and in the face of a threatening shotgun, and that it resulted in the apprehension of two men. He said that the decision of the selection committee was unanimous.

The following police department citations will be presented at the luncheon by mayor Garaghan:

Driver Is Charged

A Woodstock man was charged with driving while intoxicated after his car had been involved in an accident on Route 375, about midnight, at West Hurley.

Charged with driving while intoxicated was Henry Schwab, 37, of 18 Maverick Road, Woodstock. Deputy Sheriff Robert Jordan with town of Woodstock constables investigated and Jordan reported the Schwab car was traveling toward Woodstock when it went over the center line of the highway and struck a car of Alfred Nussbaum, 19, of Box 126, West Hurley. No injuries were reported.

NEW YORK (AP)—A rebound by glamor stocks and advances by rails, airlines and selected issues featured an irregularly higher stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

Electronics, tobaccos and drugs also were generally higher but the trend was to the downside among steels, nonferrous metals and motors.

It was a tricky market, said analysts, because there was considerable consolidation needed after the strong October recovery.

DuPont dropped more than 3 points, erasing its gain of Monday and affecting market averages.

The Dow Jones industrial average, some key stocks selling ex-dividend, was off .50 at noon to 806.57 but other averages were slightly higher.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .6 at 295.3 with industrials off .6, rails up 1.5 and utilities up .4.

The New York Stock Exchange index at noon also was higher.

Rebounding from sharp losses taken Monday, a number of glamor stocks were picked up by traders. IBM rose more than 4, Xerox 3, Polaroid sliced a 1-point rise.

Boeing gained 2 points. The company was awarded a $235.8-million contract to build a air-to-surface missile.

AT ANNIVERSARY FETE—The 75th anniversary of the Church of the Holy Cross, Pine Grove Avenue, was celebrated at Solemn Evensong and Benediction, Sunday afternoon, October 30, 1966. Assisting clergy were the Rev. Edward Schmidt, deacon, the Rev. Richard Shepherd, subdeacon, the Rev. Robert Shellenberger, the Rev. A. Appleton Packard, O.H.C. At the tea following the service, the Rev. David Bronson, center, rector, of St. John's Church, cake for Father Shellenberger, right, rector of St. John's Church, first Episcopal parish in the city, and Father Packard, O.H.C. former rector of Holy Cross Church. The cake was topped with an icing in the shape and colors of the Church of the Holy Cross. The cake was designed and made by Mrs. Ella Fishang, Mrs. Frank Barnes Sr., Miss Helen Sheldon, and Mrs. Violet Osterhout. At the companion table Miss Mary Ann Barnes and Miss Sherry Supka. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Harry Hine Jr., Mrs. Frank Barnes Jr., Miss Judith Anne Hines. (Freeman photo by Kruh) innocents" and point out "the desperation of the Viet Cong in seeking to revive its flagging prestige."

He said printing of the leaflets would start Wednesday and would carry a photograph of a woman killed in the central market square by the shelling. Fearing more terrorist incidents, U.S. authorities put the capital off limits to American servicemen.

Little other action was reported in the war. U.S. B52s kept pressure on an enemy position in the central highlands Monday, raiding it for the third day in a row, but bad weather limited air strikes over the Communist north again and American pilots got in only 59 missions.

Think Howitzer Used

U.S. pilots flew 449 sorties over South Viet Nam Monday and Vietnamese pilots flew 60. Vietnamese police sources said the shelling into the capital came from 75mm recoilless rifles and 60mm mortars, but some military men said they were sure a light howitzer also was used.

The shells struck only 50 yards behind a reviewing stand for Vietnamese, U.S. and other foreign dignitaries. Had they come 90 minutes later, they would have exploded when U.S. Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, and Vietnamese government chiefs were on the stand.

Elsewhere, the 63,000-ton U.S. aircraft carrier Coral Sea took up her battle station in the Gulf of Tonkin to launch air strikes against the Communist north. The Coral Sea replaced the carrier Oriskany, which was crippled by fire last Wednesday and went to the Philippines for repairs.

Speculations Questioned
By College Student

Q—"I'm 19, attending college. During the summer, I bought for short-term gains 100 each of Colt (22), General Time (15) and Seilon (10). Earnings appear bright but my stocks are dull. Why? Should I sell and buy mutual fund shares on a monthly plan?" K. S.

A—"You acquired these speculations on their way down, although they had hit bottom. However, further weakness in the market carried all three to new lows. Despite earnings improvement, each was vulnerable to some foreseeable hazard.

While each has its comeback potential, I believe you should sell these speculative issues on further rally and concentrate on building a growth portfolio. This might be done through the Monthly Investment Plan offered by some NYSE member firms.

If you want wider diversification at the outset, you would achieve this by using some of the cash from your sales to purchase mutual fund shares.

Q—"We are small investors, around 70 years of age, living on bank interest and dividends. We're concerned about Koehring, which we were advised to purchase two years ago at 33. Its 1966 high was 46½. Should we hold this?" W. G.

A—"Yes, until you can sell without a loss. Meanwhile you

NEW PALTZ NEWS

UNICEF Sale Reported Doing Well Locally

NEW PALTZ — With their purchase of UNICEF greeting cards, notes and date books, the citizens of New Paltz have more than matched the generous spirit of civic, religious organizations and volunteer groups who are conducting the sale. As of Monday, Oct. 24, sales were averaging about $200 a day. The new Festival Books were completely sold out the second day. The UNICEF Committee of New Paltz thanked Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tasker for the window display which featured UNICEF at Buddy's Store and congratulated Miss Amy Hepburn for the outstanding display she prepared for the Elting Memorial Library. The committee also acknowledged with thanks the help given by Miss Jean Vanderlyn and Mrs. Harriet Fass, transportation. Mrs. Roland Babb, typing and Mrs. Adelaide Nieve for her assistance with publicity. Miss Alice White, who is in charge of the stock, has been aided by Mrs. Zabeth Janke. Women serving with various groups and not previously cited include the Mmes. Fay LeFevre, Stanley Beatty, Kenneth DuBois, James Olsen, Ira Romze, LeRoy Nyedegger and Perry Wilson.

Study Club Meets At New Time; Set Year's Program

The New Paltz Study Club has announced that when it holds its next meeting Tuesday, Nov. 1, a new policy will be inaugurated.

Refreshments will be served first at 1:30 p. m. followed by the business meeting and the program. This is being tried at the request of the refreshment committee members who hope this will make it possible for them to get home before six. The meeting will take place at the First National Bank of Highland, New Paltz Branch, Main Street and Manheim Boulevard.

The year's program for the Study Club have as its overall theme, 'We've Looked Locally, Talent Is Our Theme. The guest speaker at the next meeting will be Larry Argiro who will speak on Mosaic Art Today.

Mrs. Clifford Hoppenstedt is refreshment chairman, Miss Marion Harding is reception hostess. Members will note the new time 1:30 instead of 2 p. m.

Elting Library Lists Activities

NEW PALTZ—At the recent monthly meeting of the Elting Memorial Library, David Lent conducted the meeting in absence of the president, Ben Matteson. Board members, Grace Elliott, Mrs. Walter Luczai, Joseph Storch, Mrs. Janet Jeannetty, Mrs. Hugo Munsterberg, chairman of the book committee, and Mrs. William Bracken, librarian, attended.

The sum of $260 has been given to the library in memory of the late Jack Elting.

The children from the Fresh Air Committee who were taken into various homes this summer used books from the library and enjoyed reading them in the yard.

The Mormons have given eight books to the library through the Presidency of the Mormon Church of Salt Lake City.

To date there are 324 paid memberships and it is hoped that those that have not yet contributed will do so soon.

During the month of September, 1079 adult and 1027 juvenile non-fiction books were borrowed. In addition to this magazine, pamphlets, records, newspapers and films were loaned.

Over 30 new records have been given by the Columbia Broadcasting Company. More about these will be reported in the near future. They range from popular to classical music. Mrs. Earl Stokes has given $25 to the library proceeds from a more or less continual sale of flowers from her own garden this summer. It is through the generosity of people like this that the Elting Memorial Library is able to do so much for the public.

Library Tag Day is held each year on election day.

Lions Club Clinic Scheduled Nov. 19

The New Paltz Lions Club, in cooperation with the Medical Association of New Paltz, will conduct a glaucoma clinic Saturday, Nov. 19.

According to Lion William Schmalkuche Jr., who is chairman of the arrangements for the clinic, anyone in the community may have his eyes examined that day free of charge. He explained that the Lions Club has been cooperating with local doctors in this program for the examinations, and the doctors contribute their time to the testing. The examination takes only a few minutes and is relatively simple. Schmalkuche pointed out, and he emphasized that it is important for a person to have his eyes checked for glaucoma periodically.

Although the local Lions Club, along with other Lions Clubs throughout the world, has a number of service functions, one of the main areas of service is its aid to the blind and to sight conservation.

Plan Fashion Show

Winter fashions will be modeled at the St. Joseph's Women's Guild fashion show to be held Monday, Nov. 21 in the Church Hall.

The show, entitled Holiday Happenings, will begin at 8 p. m.

General chairman of the event is Mrs. Anthony Luglisi. Other committee chairmen are Mrs. Walter Yeager, coordinator; Mrs. Frank Von Gonsic, tickets; Mrs. George Fisher, set designs; Mrs. Edward McIntyre, refreshments; Mrs. Roland Shafer, art, and Mrs. V. J. Maxwell, publicity.

Tickets for the show may be obtained at the coming teachers tea which is sponsored by the Guild, will be held in the church hall.

Attend AAUW Parley

Mrs. Robert Taylor, Mrs. Jerome Hurd, Mrs. Clifford Hoppenstedt, Miss Marion Harding, Mrs. George Campbell III, Mrs. Robert Durkin and Ann Gregory attended the area conference of the American Association of University Women which was held in Warwick on Saturday, Oct. 22.

Members of the 10 AAUW branches of the Lower Hudson Valley explored the topic 'Designs for the Times: Whither Goest the Hudson Valley?'

Buy Basic Blue Chip Stocks Is Spear's Advice

BABSON PARK, Mass. — "Investors can take best advantage of the current market by selective buying of blue-chip stocks," says Roger E. Spear, investment advisor.

"Utilities, dairy products, oils, tobaccos, banks and insurance companies offer especially fruitful long-term investment opportunities right now," Spear states.

"To be sure, everyone likes a 'fast mover.' But it is the defensive, solid issues—the 'Mother

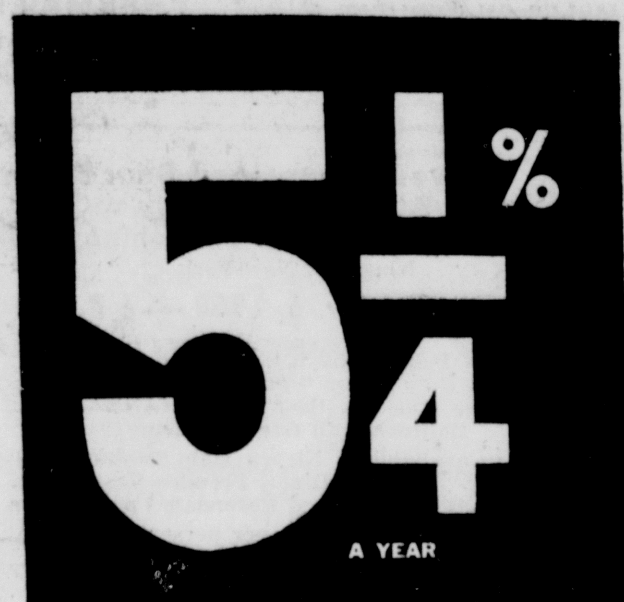

Bells' — that provide the safety and stable long range growth characteristics that appeal to the big block pension funds. And it is these big money sources which have set off the current upswing in these kinds of issues.

You may disdain a diet of slow-growth issues, but if you aspire to make money in stocks you've got to go where the action is. And the action right now is in the blue chips," Spear writes in the current issue of the Spear Market Letter.

Spear warns that investors who hesitate to begin buying defensive blue chips may forfeit the opportunity to do so profitably later.

"For those who want high current income and are willing to assume some risk there is ample material now," he writes. "A period of consolidation is a normal expectation in view of the abnormally swift blue-chip recovery. However, the primary trend in some of these issues appears to be up."

MRS. ANTHONY PAUL TURCK (Lakeside photo)

Miss JoAnne Elizabeth Henry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Henry of 55 Staples Street, Kingston, exchanged marriage vows with Anthony Paul Turck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Turck, 40 Hanratty Street, Kingston Saturday, Oct. 22nd at 1 p. m. in St. Mary's Church. The Rev. Edward I. Farrelly assistant pastor of St. Mary's Church Kingston, was the officiating clergyman. Theodore Riccobono was organist.

Mr. Henry escorted his daughter to the altar which was decorated with white pompons and gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of peau de soie and charmingly lace monk sleeves of peach with lace appliques, controlled floor length skirt with court train attached to the shoulder line. A stylized headpiece held her silk illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of white pompons and carnations.

Mrs. John Canzoneri of Yorktown Heights, N. Y., served as matron of honor in a floor length gown of Samaron rose crepe elbow length sleeves and sheath skirt with panel back. An open crown held a short four tiered bouffant veil and she carried a bouquet of pompons and carnations.

Attendants were Mrs. Robert Tegar of Sleightsburgh, N. Y., sister of the bridegroom; and Mrs. Thomas Puoco of 610 Delaware Avenue, Kingston. Their gowns were identical to that worn by the honor attendant and they carried bouquets of pompons and carnations.

Frank Turck of New Salem, N. Y., was best man for his brother. Ushers were Robert Tegar of Sleightsburgh, N. Y., brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Thomas Henry of Long Beach, N. Y., brother of the bride.

More than 150 guests were received at a reception given in The Capri 400, Port Ewen.

The bride is a graduate of Academy of St. Ursula and State University College at New Paltz. She is employed as a teacher in the Chambers School. Her husband attended Kingston High School and is employed by the City Schools Consolidated.

Mr. and Mrs. Turck will reside at 26 Crane Street, Kingston, N. Y.

Doing The Right Thing

BY ELIZABETH L. POST

As I promised in my column Sept. 19, the fraternities noted below have been chosen to receive free copies of "Etiquette." Their letters indicate that they all have active programs for teaching and practicing good manners, and their chairmen and advisers are filled with enthusiasm and ideas.

The programs described vary from weekly lectures on subjects connected with etiquette to a "Little Sister" sorority group which assists one fraternity in getting the feminine point of view on manners. Others have special evenings when etiquette is especially stressed at dinner and afterwards, and one sorority publishes its own book on the subject called "Miss Gracious Living."

Here are the winners: Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity, University of Tulsa; Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority, University of Miami; Sigma Alpha, Epsilon Fraternity, University of Washington; Alpha Chi Omega Sorority (no chapter), University of Colorado; Kappa Delta Sorority (Beta Iota Chapter), American University, Washington, D.C.; Alpha Chi Omega Sorority, University of Arkansas.

First Names A Privilege, Not A Prerogative

Dear Mrs. Post: I have a pet peeve that I wish you would comment on in your column. Recently I had occasion to invite two businessmen to my home. One was a contractor's representative to give me an estimate on a new kitchen, and the other brought carpet samples from a local furniture store for my inspection. I like to use people's names when I am talking to them, and when they didn't introduce themselves, I said, "I'm Mrs. A. and you are Mr. . . ." Both of them replied, "Oh, just call me Walt. Everybody does," and "Just call me Al." They were not here together, so one was not following the other's lead. I do not think it proper, and I can't bring myself to call a total stranger by his first name. When this happens, I'm forced to press for their last names, which I might add, is often said unthinkingly. Then if the man has no business card and you have to call him on the phone at a later date, you either have to ask for "Walt," or go into a lengthy description. Please comment. — J.M.

Dear Mrs. J. M. Why people who meet you in the circumstances you mention feel that you would prefer to call them by their first names is beyond me. Certainly today when two people are introduced by a mutual friend, they lapse into that familiarity immediately, but this doesn't give a man who meets a woman on a purely business footing the same privilege. For the practical reason you state, as well as for the fact that it is strictly according to good manners, any salesman who comes to your house, should give you his last name as well as his first and leave it up to you whether you want to call him "Joe" or "Mr. Zilch."

Woodstock Artists Exhibit at UCCC

An exhibition of paintings and sculpture by Woodstock artists opened at Ulster County Community college October 30 and will continue through November 23.

The Visual Arts Program of the College invites community residents and students to view this exhibition in Gallery Hall on the third floor of the College campus at 214 West Chestnut Street, Kingston, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Monday through Thursday and from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. on Fridays.

Through the years, Woodstock has grown in importance as an art center with an ardent social and creative life. Many prominent and serious painters make their homes in this area. The artists represented range in fame and experience from Doris Lee, Arnold Blanch, Ethel Magafan to Fletcher Martin, Roland Crampton and Anton Refregier.

Some of the other sculptors and painters represented are Frank Alexander, Robert Angelock, Sidney Laufman, Walter Plate, Frances Stein, Arthur Zaidenburg, Jean Young, Hannah Small, Eugene Ludins, Tom Penning, Julio DeDiego, Jane Jones, James Turnbull, Marion Greenwood, Carolyn Haberlin, Cecile Forman, Jane Axel and Tom Reilly.

The paintings and sculpture included in the exhibition were loaned by the artists and all works are available for purchase.

The exhibition was organized by the Woodstock sculptor, Tom Penning and Professor Ruth Muroff, coordinator of the Arts at the Community College.

In conjunction with the exhibition, a lecture is planned for Friday, Nov. 18 at 7 p. m. at the college. The lecturer will be Julio deDiego, the internationally famed and respected artist who now resides in Woodstock. His topic will be "The Life of an Artist," and he also will discuss with slides the Black Period of Goya as seen from his works in the Prada Museum, Spain.

Home Economist Will Receive National Recognition Wednesday: Award Given

ITHACA, N. Y.—Mrs. Phyllis W. Barlow, Extension home economist in Ulster County, will receive national recognition Wednesday in Chicago, Ill. She will be presented a Distinguished Service Award by the National Association of Extension Home Economists at a recognition brunch in the Sherman House during the Association's 32nd annual meeting.

Mrs. Barlow is being cited for her leadership in reaching new audiences and in using new and different techniques and methods of extending home economics information to people.

In recommending Mrs. Barlow for the national award, fellow Extension home economists pointed out that under her guidance, appropriate and imaginative programs have been developed and presented to young homemakers, disadvantaged families, and traditional membership groups.

One example is a program she conducted for mothers of children participating in a Head-Start program. Upon finding many of the mothers were Puerto Rican and could read only Spanish, Mrs. Barlow found an interpreter to translate the material.

A native of Hannibal, N. Y., Mrs. Barlow earned the B. S. degree from the State University College at Plattsburgh. She also attended the New York School of Interior Design, and from 1964-65 spent a sabbatical leave working toward the Master of Education degree at Cornell.

Before starting work with the New York State Cooperative Extension as assistant home demonstration agent in Oswego County in 1955, Mrs. Barlow held positions as home economics teacher in West Carthage High School, Vestal Central School, and Hannibal Central School; interior decorator for Calico Wallpaper and Paint, Binghamton, and for F. A. Church Wallpaper and Paint, Geneva; and seventh grade teacher in Red Creek Central School.

She served as Cooperative Extension agent in Oswego County from 1955-1957, in Wayne County from 1958-1960, and in Ulster County from March 1960 to the present.

Mrs. Barlow is chairman of the Southern District of the New York State Association of Extension Home Economists and a member of the State Board of Directors.

She is secretary of Ulster

MRS. PHYLLIS W. BARLOW

County Council of Social Agencies, and a member of the E.O.A. Technical Advisory Committee, the PTA of Saugerties Central School, the Ulster County Heart Association, and the Administrative Management Society.

She is also affiliated with the American Home Economics Association, the New York State Home Economics Association, alumni groups of the New York School of Interior Design and the State University College at Plattsburgh. The International Federation of Home Economists, and Epsilon Sigma Phi, Extension honorary society.

Mrs. Barlow resides with her twelve year old son, Lynn, and her mother, Mrs. Florence L. Wellington, at 19 Country Club Drive, Mt. Mariah, N. Y.

Benedictine Women To Meet Wednesday

Mrs. Charles Turck, president, has announced that the regular meeting of the Benedictine Hospital Auxiliary will be held tomorrow at 8:30 p. m. in the auditorium of the Nurses' Residence.

In addition to the regular reports of the organization, a full report will be given on the successful recent card party. Mrs. Richard Larsen, chairman of the Hospitality Committee, will conduct a workshop in making tray favors for the holidays for the hospital. All members are urged to attend and new members are invited to join the auxiliary.

ARC Chapter Sets Benefit Sale and Dinner Nov. 6th

Specially - designed decorator candles, hand-molded in sheltered workshops for the mentally retarded, will be placed on sale publicly in this area beginning Sunday evening, Nov. 6, the Ulster County Chapter of the NYS Association for Retarded Children announced today.

The first pair received in Ulster County will be presented that night to last year's president of the group, Julius Kirschner, at the annual testimonial dinner of the organization to be held at the Granit Hotel, Kerhonkson.

The public may attend the dinner dance and floor show. Toastmaster for the event, honoring the past president, will be Dick McCarthy, radio personality and Kingston master of ceremonies.

Plan Area Workshop

Proceeds from the dinner will be used to begin preliminary planning for a sheltered workshop for the retarded in Ulster County.

Designed by an artist for the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation, and dedicated to the memory of the late President, the slim, square, "Flame of Hope" candles demonstrates the employability of the retarded who are given the opportunity to use their training under the proper sheltered workshop conditions.

Ulster County now has no such facilities for young adults whose abilities are so limited that they cannot be given full-time employment by Gateway Industries or by private employers.

Edward Crosby, principal of Kingston's Lake Katrine and Emma Wygant Schools, and chapter president, said the candles could be ordered from the Chapter's office, 101 Green Street, Kingston.

Classes for Trainables

Children from New Paltz, Saugerties, Highland, Ellenville, Stone Ridge, and other Ulster County towns attend the Emma Wygant School which conducts classes for the trainable retarded.

A sheltered workshop would assist from that school after completing their training at the age of 21, and others in the Ulster County area who have learning difficulties because of illness, birth defects, accidents, or other causes. Sheltered workshops formed in other cities have enabled those beyond school age to become in some measure self-supporting and to continue their social and personal training in an atmosphere conducive to progress and self-development.

Invitations for the Nov. 6 dinner at the Granit Hotel may be obtained from the Kingston office.

Kinstrey on Forrestal

Aviation Boatswain's Mate Third Class Lawrence Kinstrey, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kinstrey of James Street, Rosendale, a crewmember aboard the attack aircraft carrier Forrestal, observed the 11th anniversary of the carrier at the home of its commissioning, the Norfolk Naval Shipyard in Portsmouth, Va.

Scholars believe the North American Indians spoke about 350 different languages.

AID MENTALLY RETARDED—Mrs. Julius Kirschner, displays Flame of Hope candles made by the mentally retarded which will go on sale locally Nov. 6 to aid afflicted children in Ulster County. The sale will kick off at the annual testimonial dinner to be held at the Granit Hotel, Kerhonkson. Julius Kirschner, center, past president of the Ulster County Chapter of the New York State Association for Retarded Children will be honored at that time. Pictured right is Jerry Prosser, vice president of the local chapter. (Freeman photo by Wagenföhr)

Hebrew School Meet Slated for Nov. 6th

J. Graham Sullivan, Deputy Commissioner, U. S. Office of Education, will address the 23rd annual dinner-meeting of Torah Umesorah, the National Society of Hebrew Day Schools. The annual meeting to be held on Sunday, Nov. 6, at the Hotel Pierre in New York City will bring together the educational and lay heads of America's 330 Hebrew Day Schools. These schools which offer a combined program of religious and general studies are today located in 30 states and in 193 communities.

It is expected that Sullivan will speak on the role of the non-public school within the total American educational society and will also indicate the future involvement of the Federal Government in aiding both the public and non-public school sectors of American education.

DO YOU TAKE VITAMINS AND STILL FEEL TIRED?

Here's How To Feel Stronger Fast

Have you been feeling tired and rundown lately? And do you take vitamins yet still feel tired? If so, your trouble may be due to iron-poor, tired blood. Vitamins alone can't build up iron-poor blood. But GERITOL can! That's because just 2 GERITOL tablets, or 2 tablespoons of GERITOL liquid contain 7 vitamins plus twice the blood-building iron in a whole pound of calf's liver. In only one day GERITOL iron is in your bloodstream carrying strength and energy to every part of your body. Check with your doctor, and if iron-poor blood is making you feel tired, take GERITOL, liquid or tablets, every day. Feel stronger fast—in 7 days—or money back from GERITOL.

Property Tax Exemption

A public hearing will be held by the Board of Education of Kingston School Consolidated at J. Watson Bailey Junior High School 8 p. m. Nov. 15 on the question of property tax exemption for the aged. All interested persons will be heard.

A new section of Real Property Tax Law authorizes any county, city, town, village or school district, after public hearing, to enact a local law, ordinance or resolution granting a 50 per cent exemption on real property owned by persons 65 years of age or over meeting the statutory qualifications.

The following question and answer series issued by the State Board of Equalization and Assessment is printed by The Freeman as a public service.

Amount and Type

What is the amount of the exemption?

The property is exempt from taxation to the extent of 50 per cent of the assessed value of the property. This means that taxes will be levied on only 50 per cent of the total taxable assessed valuation of the property which appears on the assessment roll.

May this 50 per cent exemption be granted in addition to any other partial exemptions to which the property may be entitled?

Yes. This exemption is in addition to other partial exemptions such as that granted the property of veterans and clergy.

How is the 50 per cent exemption computed where the property is also entitled to a veteran's exemption or other partial exemption?

The 50 per cent exemption is to be computed after all other partial exemptions have been deducted.

What types of taxes are covered by the exemption?

The exemption applies only to taxes imposed upon the property for municipal or school district purposes by or on behalf of the county, city, town, village or school district which has granted the exemption. Special ad valorem levies and special assessments are not included in the exemption. Examples of these

Cambridge Finds Time Is Right to Be Negro Actor

By BOB THOMAS

AF Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) —

This is a good time to be a Negro actor, as Godfrey Cambridge can testify.

Once limited to roles as servants or as protagonists in occasional films on racial themes, Negro actors are now being cast in important movie and television roles in which their race is immaterial. You see them playing detectives, lawyers and ordinary citizens in television series. You will be seeing them are assessments for street, water or sewer improvements or levies on behalf of town improvement districts, such as fire, water, sewer districts, etc.

May a school tax exemption be granted if a child resides on the property and attends a public school in the school district?

No. The law specifically provides that no exemption shall be given in this case.

more and more in costarring roles in features.

Now in Demand

Comedian Cambridge is one of the major recipients of this new benefit. Experienced in the New York theater — "Purlie Victorious," films — "The Last Angry Man," and television — "Naked City," etc., he finds himself in demand for roles in which his race is not an element of the plot.

Last summer he costarred with Edward G. Robinson, Raquel Welch, Vittorio de Sica and Robert Wagner in MGM's "The Biggest Bundle of Them All," which was filmed in France and Italy. Cambridge played one of a gang of inept thieves who attempt a $5 million platinum haul.

"It's a role that any actor could play, white or black," he remarked. "At first they wanted me cast as a jazz musician, but I was against it. I'm bored with that 'dig' and 'crazy, man' talk."

"I'm literate. I don't need a local option to speak English. I learned how to speak the language at a school in Canada, where you got punched in the nose if you didn't talk correctly." Born in New York City, he was sent to grammar school in Sydney, Nova Scotia, where his parents had first emigrated from British Guiana.

Cambridge finally played a concert violinist in "The Biggest Bundle of Them All." Recently he portrayed a not-so-fumbling gangster in "The Busy Body," with Marty Ingels as his partner.

Another Step

"The fact that I'm able to play a gangster in a movie nowadays is a sign of our growing sophistication toward racial matters," he reasoned. "It's another step. The ultimate will come when I can go into a casting office and be accepted or rejected solely on the basis of whether I can handle the role."

Right now he's up for a role in "The Comedians," starring Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor, and for a television series in which he would play a rural postmaster. Bill Cosby of "I Spy" has proved that a Negro can successfully star in a series.

THERE'S A LOT OF CLOTHES

How much money will a CLOTHES DRYER save you?

A clothes dryer plus permanent press clothes can produce big savings for your family. (The new no-iron fabrics are at their best when dried the modern way in an automatic Electric Dryer.)

That's not all — you don't need as much clothing, bedding, or linens when you have a modern dryer. You can save over $35 a year on clothes alone for a six-year old!

You save time, too. A busy house wife needs all the time she can get — and a dryer saves hours and hours of work weekly.

Last but not least, your clothes will last longer and dry fresher, without fading, fraying, or outside dirt and dust, when you dry with a Clothes Dryer.

Teenage Canteen At Auditorium Opens Wednesday

The Kingston Recreation Commission will undertake a completely new venture starting this Wednesday at which time a teen-canteen known as The Huddle will be opened in the Kingston Municipal Auditorium. The former refreshment area of the Auditorium will be the site of The Huddle.

The new activity will be set up cafe style with provisions to seat at least 120 youngsters. Supervision at The Huddle will be provided by the Recreation Department but the conduct of those using the facility will be completely governed by the board of directors of The Huddle. The board consists of 16 students from 9th through 12th Grades, four from each class, with board officers being elected by the board members.

This student board has been in on the organization from the very beginning and the entire set up has been done at their bidding. Their ideas have been followed completely and will continue to be followed as long as they prove practical. Mrs. Barbara Shultz, program chairman of the Recreation Commission, has expended a good deal of time and effort along with other Committee members to provide a wholesome activity for local teenagers along the lines they most want.

For Kingston Teens

Membership in The Huddle is restricted to High School Students (9th-12th grades) from all area high schools who reside in the City of Kingston. The room has been painted maroon and white, KHS colors, with activity pictures adorning the walls.

Refreshments will be provided at all times the Huddle is open. Membership cards may be obtained by all students who qualify from any member of the Board or from the Recreation Office which is now on the second floor of the Kingston Municipal Auditorium.

Music will be furnished at all times the canteen is open. Week-days music will be of the canned variety from a juke box but current plans call for occasional live music on weekends with this being provided by popular local groups. Current hours for the Huddle are:

The Monday through Friday schedule for The Huddle will be from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. It will be open after school from 3:30 p. m. to 5 p. m. It then will re-open at 6:30 p. m. and close at 9 p. m. on weekdays. Friday night it will close at 11 p. m. The Huddle will be open on Saturdays from 6:30 p. m. to 11 p. m. Sunday hours will be from 1-5 p. m.

Commission Chairman Emile G. Taichlet along with other members of the Program Committee namely Edwin Bahl and Jack E. Turk have been very instrumental in making this project a reality.

List Board

The student board of directors of The Huddle includes Allan Drake, president; Gary Boice, vice president; Bruce Gilligan, treasurer, and Leslie Elmendorf, secretary.

The Kingston Recreation Commission members include: Mrs. Barbara Shultz, program chairman; Edwin Bahl, program committee member; Emile G. Taichlet, commission chairman; Jack E. Turk, program committee member, and Andrew J. Murphy III, department superintendent.

Peace Corps Sets Test November 12

Area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps placement test at 9 a. m. on Saturday, Nov. 12, at the main post office, Broadway.

The Peace Corps uses the placement test to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. (If test scores indicate a limited language-learning ability, for example, the Peace Corps tries to place the applicant in an English-speaking country.) The placement test requires no preparation and is non-competitive — an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

Use Drugs to Beat Draft

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Some young men in the St. Louis area have used drugs to increase their blood pressure before reporting for their Selective Service physical examinations, the clerk of 10 St. Louis local draft boards says.

Marguerite Ward, the clerk, did not name the drug.

Mrs. Ward said doctors are reviewing the examination reports of all men who had been rejected because of high blood pressure.

To the do-it-yourself decorator, print advertising makes a material contribution. In more ways than one.

How else can she get such complete information on prices, sizes, styles and colors right in her own living room?

Where else can she find a stunning idea—and bring it to a standstill for further study? What other medium lets her clip and compare?

Print's the only one.

And the spell that print weaves doesn't stop with material. It helps ring the register for everything from automatic can openers to zipper closures. Which is why—whatever you have to sell—part of your sales message belongs in print.

Print makes sense, because print makes sales.

CHARLES GOBLE and BUCK

Charles Goble Bags 1st Deer Ending 21-Year Drought

It took only one shot to end a 21-year deer drought and Charles W. Goble Jr., of Hurley, mechanical superintendent in the Daily Freeman's composing room, is wondering why it took so long.

The long, frustrating search for the elusive horns ended for Goble last Tuesday on opening day of the Adirondack deer season.

Ironically, it was the only shot fired during the long, unseasonably warm day by a group that included some of Kingston area's top nimrods, among them Henry Dowers, Emerson Mayes, Robert Saehloff and Dr. Leonard Gerson of Pelham Manor.

Goble's historic bag was a seven-point buck.

The group packed five miles back in the woods of Indian Lake and set up camp under the direction of noted Adirondack guide Abner Hall. Hunting in what is termed bluebird weather, the nimrods were able to start very few deer.

The area's first week's kill, as tallied by Indian Lake natives, was termed light due to the unseasonably warm weather, causing deer to be very restrictive in their movements.

SHS Grid Fete Slated Nov. 16

Members of the Saugerties High football team and coaches will be guests of honor at a banquet, scheduled Wednesday, Nov. 16, at the Flamingo Restaurant.

A member of the New York Football Giants will be the speaker at the annual event, sponsored each year by the Saugerties Jaycees.

The affair has grown in popularity over the past seven years and a sellout crowd is expected to attend and pay tribute to the Sawyers.

Previous speakers have included Y. A. Tittle, Andy Robustelli, Joe Morrison and Phil King.

Tickets are available and may be obtained by contacting chairman Bob Schnell.

UCCC Harriers In Regional Meet

Ulster County Community College's cross country team will compete in the Region 15 tournament on Saturday at Van Cortlandt Park, New York City, Coach Dick Glazer said today.

The coach said he is hoping Barry Hopkins, sidelined with an illness for several meets, will be able to compete in the Regional meet.

"Barry Hopkins is one of our top runners," Coach Glazer said, "and certainly will give us a far stronger team if he is able to run."

Lost Two Straight
With Hopkins, a former Ontario Central School star, competing the U.C.C.C. harriers won their first three meets this fall. When he was sidelined by illness, the team was hindered by his absence and lost its next two meets.

Coach Glazer said the other runners who will run for the team in the regional meet are Joe O'Brien, Saugerties; Brian Elmendorf, Kingston; Ron Lindsay, Kingston; John Roettger, Pine Bush, and John Sullivan, Kingston.

"The team on a whole has been working very hard and has shown great improvement," Coach Glazer said. "With Hopkins back in the lineup we hope to be able to make a good showing in the Regional meet."

Holly Wins Two In Invitational

Dave Holly, the lone Kingston entrant, opened the Hudson Valley Invitational Pocket Billiard championships with a pair of wins Monday night at The Game Room, Dutchess Turnpike, Poughkeepsie.

Holly trounced Art Barron of Newburgh, 125-70, and then won over Wally Lipschitz of Newburgh. In other matches: Bob Harbster, Newburgh, topped Bob Lay, Poughkeepsie, 125-110; and John Beaudette, Poughkeepsie, defeated Art Weygand, Newburgh, 125-110.

Harbster had high run of 54 for the evening.
Henry Jensen of Cold Spring is the eighth player in the field. Matches are played every Monday night at 7:30 at The Game Room.

Onteora Jayvees Beat Pine Bush

Howie Ostrander fell on a fumble in the end zone with only two seconds to play remaining to give the unbeaten Onteora Jayvee team a 14-7 win over homecoming Pine Bush.

The Indians, now 6-0 for the season, scored when Paul Morey dove over from the two to climax a drive of 53 yards. Dennis Gale ran for an extra point and Steve Henen passed to Charles Pine Bush for the PAT.

Pine Bush tallied on an 88 yard pass interception run in the third period. It was the first touchdown against the Indians this season.

Coach Dave Locascio's team will clash with unbeaten Liberty next Monday at Onteora.

Irish Retain Ranking As Top College Team

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nebraska's convincing 35-0 victory over Missouri enabled the unbeaten Cornhuskers to move into sixth place in the Associated Press major-college football poll today. Georgia Tech and Arkansas also gained ground while Notre Dame maintained a solid first-place margin over runner-up Michigan State.

Southern California, upset by Miami of Florida, tumbled four places to ninth, and Tennessee climbed into the Top Ten, replacing Wyoming.

Notre Dame, undefeated in six games, collected 39 first-place votes and 475 points in the latest balloting by a national panel of 49 sports writers and broadcasters. The Irish trampled Navy 31-7 last Saturday. Michigan State held the No. 2 position with 437 points, including 60 for six first-place votes. The Spartans blanked Northwestern 22-0 for their seventh victory without a defeat.

Third And Fourth
UCLA and Alabama held third and fourth places, respectively, the Bruins with 366 points and the Tide with 347. Points were awarded on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second etc.

UCLA downed the Air Force

38-13 and Alabama defeated Mississippi State 27-14. Georgia Tech climbed one place to fifth after trampling Duke 48-7. Nebraska, eighth a week ago, advanced two notched. The Cornhuskers, 7-0, watched Missouri in a regionally televised game.

Florida, 30-27 winner over Auburn, remained in the No. 7 position while Arkansas, which beat Texas A&M 34-0, moved up on place to eighth.

Southern California, fifth last week, was beaten by Miami 10-7 Friday night.

Twice-beaten Tennessee took over 10th place. The Vols over 10th place. The Vols trimmed Army 38-7 Saturday while Wyoming lost to Colorado State University 12-10.

The top ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and total points on a 10-9-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1. Notre Dame (39) 6-0 475
2. Mich. State (6) 7-0 437
3. UCLA (3) 7-0 366
4. Alabama (1) 6-0 347
5. Georgia Tech 7-0 347
6. Nebraska 7-0 346
7. Florida 7-0 309
8. Arkansas 6-1 151
9. Southern California 6-1 66
10. Tennessee 4-2 48

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Georgia, Harvard, Houston, Miami, Fla., Mississippi, Purdue, Southern Methodist, Syracuse, Wyoming.

New Orleans Becomes 16th Franchise in N.F.L. Today

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—This historic city becomes the 16th member of the National Football League today.

A news conference was scheduled for 10 a.m. CST, today to announce the awarding of the franchise to New Orleans.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle—who will be the czar of the super-league when the National and American leagues complete their merger in 1970—quietly arrived in town late Monday night for the announcement session.

New Orleans will field a team in the NFL next season.

The name most frequently mentioned for the team is the New Orleans — or Louisiana — Saints, from the city's Dixieland heritage. Today, incidentally, is All Saints Day.

However, it will be up to the owner of the franchise to select the team name. Rozelle said on a visit here last week that the NFL would study the applications for ownership after announcing the franchise city and decide on the owner within a few days.

Louis J. Roussel, a 54-a-day New Orleans street car motorist, has a fortune exceeding $150 million, is the leading candidate and probable choice. The Associated Press learned.

Working Since 1960

New Orleans has been seeking a pro franchise since 1960. The prime mover in the drive was David Dixon, who has promoted NFL exhibition games here for several years.

Dixon was out stumping the state Monday in support of a constitutional amendment to be decided a week from today—which would establish a commission empowered to levy a hotel occupancy tax in metropolitan New Orleans and use the proceeds to finance bonds for a Superdome Sports Stadium.

The Superdome, Dixon told audiences at Ruston and Baton Rouge, would be a "giant industry in which all of Louisiana will share."

Rozelle said last week he considered it extremely important that Louisiana voters approve the stadium amendment.

Tulane University has said it would permit a pro team to use its 82,500-seat stadium as an interim facility—no more than three years.

Although the stadium—site of the post-season Sugar Bowl game for collegiate teams—is one of the country's largest, it has almost no parking facilities.

Rondout Jayvees Gain 19-7 Win

Rondout Valley's jayvee football team spotted visiting New Paltz a first period touchdown and went on to score a 19-7 decision Monday.

Coach Larry Skalla's eleven moved ahead in the second period when George Sherman scored on runs of five and six yards. The initial TD came after a 38 yard pass from quarterback Ken Brush to end Peter Koola had moved the Ganders into New Paltz territory.

Jim White capped the scoring when he raced 65 yards with the third quarter kickoff. Brush passed to Al Auletta for the PAT.

Aside from the initial score, the Ganders didn't permit the visitors to threaten the rest of the way.

The locals spotted the Middles a second period touchdown and then came back to score twice.

Eddie Lee Adams went seven yards on an option play and quarterback Ricky Sorenson threw 12 yards to end Dale Whitman. Marshall Byrd ran for the point. The second touchdown came on the final scrimmage play of the first half.

Early in the fourth period, the visitors knotted the count. They moved upfield and finally made the TD and the extra point.

With 55 seconds to play, the KHS gridders were bogged down on their own seven. They moved all the way to the three before time elapsed. Sorenson completed six straight passes in the surge and was 9 for 15 during the game.

Modica cited Sorenson, Byrd, Adams, Whitman and Larry Harris as offensive stars and guard Ron White and halfback Bill Maisenhelder as the top defensive performers.

The locals will close their season next Monday at Newburgh.

The team will be feted at the annual dinner on Thursday, Nov. 17 at Dick McCarthy's Brookside Restaurant. Parents and friends are invited and reservations may be made through the players or coaching staff.

KHS lineup:
Ends—Whitman and Harris;
tackles—Milano and Clausi;
guards—White and Primo;
center—Polacco; quarterback—Sorenson;
halfbacks—Adams and Byrd;
fullback—Kachigan. Reserves: Rapp, Rhodes, Bellows, Altomari, Stahl.

Baulsir Elected NLL President

Howard Baulsir has been elected president of National Little League, Inc. of Kingston.

Other officers named at the annual year end meeting at the VFW Home include: Charles Diers, vice president; James Rockwell, secretary; Bernie Murray, treasurer.

Clayton Stalter was elected Player Agent. Named to the board of directors were past president James Noble and Joseph Mannello.

The new president is an eleven year employee of IBM and resides at 1 Mary's Avenue in Kingston, with his wife and 8-year-old son. He has been active in the National LL for the past five years as manager and coach.

In his three years as manager of the Canfield Supply Dodgers, they won the championship two years in a row, in 1964-65. At the next meeting of the league later in the month, Baulsir will name his committees and outline his plans for the 1967 season.

Final committee reports were given at the meeting which closed with refreshments.

Neely Case Still Listed Unsolved

DALLAS (AP)—Another action that may delay further any projected removal of tackle Ralph Neely from the Dallas Cowboys' roster has been filed by the National Football League team and a hearing set for Nov. 10 in the 68th District Court here.

Declaring that Dallas had not had its day in court in the contract case of Neely, held by the Supreme Court to be now the property of the Houston Oilers of the American Football League, Erich Klein, attorney for the Cowboys, filed a suit asking a declaratory judgment that a contract Neely signed with Dallas is valid.

The action came three weeks after the U.S. Supreme Court ruled, in effect, that Neely's contract with the Oilers was valid and that he must leave the Cowboys.

Neely signed contracts with both Houston and Dallas. He has been playing with Dallas since that time—two years ago—but it has been on a week-to-week basis for almost a month.

Cornell, Buffalo Backs Are Named To ECAC Team

NEW YORK (AP)—Peter Larson of Cornell and Lee Jones of Buffalo, two backs who scored three touchdowns apiece Saturday, were named Monday to the weekly Division I All-East team of the Eastern College Athletic Conference.

Larson, a halfback, scored on runs of 25 and two yards plus a 35-yard pass in the Big Red's 31-6 victory over Columbia. Jones had touchdown runs of 50, three and one yards in Buffalo's 35-3 triumph over Holy Cross.

BOWLING

JACK FARRELL

Jack Farrell, 41-year-old Saugerties bowler, is top man on the 1966-67 high scoring roster with a 725 series rolled in the Plaza Masters at Saugerties.

One of the hottest pieces of bowling merchandise in the area, Farrell is bashing the pins at a 206 clip in the Saugerties Merchants League and 203 in the Plaza Masters, leading both leagues.

A once-a-week bowler for nearly 20 years, Farrell went to twice-a-week this year. His all-time marks up to the big blast were 279 and 679, the former rolled nearly 20 years ago.

He throws a full finger tip and rolls what is known as a three-quarter roll. Farrell, a correction officer in the New York State Department of Corrections at Coxsack, has never been to a national tournament but admits the 1967 ABC event at Rochester looks mighty good. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

Howard, Brown Top Keglers

Dick Howard, the Saugerties Slammer, led area bowlers with a 635 series in the Summit Classic Monday night. He mixed games of 209, 247 and 179.

Edgar Brown was the runnerup with a hat trick 623 on 214, 204, 214 in the City Minor.

Ken Boughton rolled a 254 solo in the Summit Classic. Harold Baltz decked 268 in the Independent.

Bonanza Sirloin rolled a 1043 team single in the Summit Classic.

Ron Gray posted 223, 203-618 to pace Weekenders wheel at Woodstock, while Jack Dawkins was thumping 213, 218-617 in the Tavern Association.

Two records were established in the Independent League—Harold Baltz's 268 and a 1007 scratch single by the Pheasant Inn squad.

Other leaders: Frank Weller, Mid-City Major, 589.

Bud Scheneman, Independent Tavern, 590.

Harriet Werner, IBM Feather, 481.

Alternates are: Flo Beichert, Adeline Teague, Marilyn Grassi, Livia Tenedini, Marjane Harder.

Gilmer's Tenure Shaky in Detroit

By WHITEY SAWYER

DETROIT (AP) — Is Detroit Lion Coach Harry Gilmer's neck under the axe?

According to fans of the National Football League, he's on his way out. As Green Bay whipped the Lions 31-7 here Sunday, they were singing, "Goodbye, Harry, we're going to see you gone."

Signs appeared in the stands saying "Bye, bye, Harry."

But the man who owns the club, Bill Ford, was quite emphatic when he said, "We're going to keep him." For Ford, it's the same time he sang earlier this year it became apparent that the Lions were in trouble.

Gilmer, who has a three-year contract running through 1967, said, "I didn't see the sign, and the singing was very poor."

But the Lions have lost five straight games and are 2-6 in the NFL's Western Division.

It's their longest losing streak in 11 years, since they dropped six straight in 1955. And it could easily go to six against the Chicago Bears this week.

Despite the recent addition of a passing offense with rookie Karl Sweetan at quarterback in place of the injured Milt Plum, the Lions have played poorly. Time after time their drives have been blunted by interceptions, fumbles and penalties.

Gilmer is doing his best to ignore criticism from players and fans. He's made wholesale changes in the Lions, letting many veterans go in exchange for youth. But it's hard to tell when, if ever, the moves will bear fruit.

Rangers, Detroit Have Top Scorers

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit and New York have managed only three victories between them so far this season, but a look at the National Hockey League's scoring figures shows seven Red Wings and Rangers bunched among the top ten individual scorers.

Figures released by the NHL today show only Chicago's Stan Mikita and Bobby Hull and Montreal's Bobby Rousseau breaking the Detroit-New York dominance.

Mikita shares the lead with Detroit's Norm Ullman. Each has scored 11 points. Mikita on three goals and eight assists and Ullman on one goal and 10 assists.

Paul Henderson, Detroit's right-handed shooting left wing, scored six goals in two games last week and shot into third place with 8-1-9. Henderson also leads the league in goals.

New York's Phil Goyette is fourth with eight points — all on assists. Hull, with four goals and three assists is fifth.

Five players are tied with six points each. Donnie Marshall of the Rangers has 4-2-6 while teammate Rod Gilbert and Rousseau lead 3-3-6. Andy Bathgate of the Red Wings has two goals, four assists and Detroit's Floyd Smith shows a 1-5-6 slate.

Re-Elect Sperl SFGC President

Saugerties Fish and Game Club re-elected all officers except the assistant secretary at its annual election meeting at d'Elia's restaurant in Centerville.

Re-elected were: Art Sperl, president; Bill Brocker, vice president; Sam Shelnutt, secretary; Bernie Tobiasen, treasurer. Ted Sasala succeeded Jim Cleveland as assistant secretary.

Jim Hutton, pheasant chairman, reported on the pheasant releases and president Sperl, in the absence of Carl King, trout chairman, reported the stocking of about 1450 brown trout fingerlings in the Lucas Kill and Yager stream.

Warn Members

Club members were warned to be especially careful to avoid causing any disturbance to the new owners of the stone house on the churchland road adjacent to the Charles Ricks property on the southern boundary.

A "used item" auction for the benefit of the rabbit committee will be held at the next meeting, Nov. 29, in the community room of the Saugerties Savings Bank. All members are urged to submit items for the auction. They do not have to be sporting equipment.

Persons wishing to donate items may do so by contacting club officers and members.

New members added to the club included Ken Mower, Dick Rafferty, Nicholas Marotta, Barry Lindsay, John Blackwell, Mike Nicholas, Doug Doolittle and Richard Doderer.

Bonjour Hanover Wins Filly Honors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bonjour Hanover won the $37,321 Lady Maud Stakes at Roosevelt Raceway Monday night, thereby clinching honors as the nation's best 3-year-old filly pacer.

The full sister of Bret Hanover covered the mile in 2:01.3-5 and finished a length and a quarter in front of Tarport Lib. There was no wagging.

This was Bonjour Hanover's 20th victory in 24 starts and boosted her seasonal earnings to $122,853.

In featured races at other harness tracks across the state Monday:

Batavia Downs—Dashing Hanover ($4.80) won the $1,100 pace by one and a quarter lengths over Linds Girl in 2:05.4-5.

Saratoga Raceway—Lightning Pace ($10.20) captured the $750 pace by one and three-quarters lengths over Milltown in 2:07.3-5.

THAT'S FAR ENOUGH—Ohio State University halfback James Neim (85) stops University of Minnesota back John Wintermute after he grabbed a pass from Gopher quarterback Curt Wilson in first quarter of Big Ten game at Minneapolis. Nance Threatens 3 AFL Records

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Nance, Boston's sensational sophomore fullback, suddenly has jumped into range of three American Football League rushing records.

Nance, who gained 204 yards in 38 carries as the Patriots took over the lead in the Eastern Division with a 24-21 victory over Oakland, reached the halfway mark of the season in this situation.

Rushing — 753 yards gained compared with the record of 1,121 set by San Diego's Paul Lowe last year.

Touchdowns scored rushing — Seven scored compared with the 13 lugged across in 1962 by both Cookie Gilchrist and Abner Haynes.

Most rushes — 163 attempts compared with the record of 252 set by Gilchrist last year.

Quote of the Week: That award also goes to Nance, who midway in the third quarter was roughed up and came off the field as the defense went on, moving his left shoulder around as if it bothered him.

"Hurt?" asked Tom Hewie.

"A little bit," said Nance, "but I've still got the other one."

High, Low: Joe Namath, the New York Jets' $400,000 quarterback, hit two career highs in a 33-23 loss to Buffalo. He passed for 343 yards — and five interceptions.

Right now the Super Bowl is without a home, and there just might be a problem or two before the final site is selected.

When the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce turned thumbs down on the use of the Rose Bowl last week, it took away the anticipated site for the first meeting between the AFL and NFL champions.

And it's just possible that the other bowl people — the Sugar Bowl and Orange Bowl also have been mentioned as sites — feel the same way about the pros moving in so close to a major college attraction.

Redskins Ready For Tough Clubs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins are bidding for their best season in 10 years, but Coach Otto Graham doesn't care too much for history. He prefers to look into the future.

"We've got three good ones coming up," Graham told a news conference. "And I'm thinking only of Sunday's game with the Colts. That's enough to worry about."

The Colts routed Washington 35-0 in a pre-season game and have whipped the Redskins six straight times in regular games.

The Redskins have a 5-3 record but now face Baltimore, the Dallas Cowboys and the Cleveland Browns, in that order. Later in the season they have return matches with Dallas, the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Eagles, whom they defeated Sunday 27-13.

The 1956 Washington team won five of its first eight games and finished third behind the Giants and the Cardinals with a 6-6 record.

This year's Redskins have won five of their last six games, losing only to the lowly New York Giants during that span.

Graham refused to predict how the team might finish in the Eastern Conference of the National Football League.

"It's difficult to assess the club," he said. "We're not that good. We really have to fight for our lives out there."

"We haven't developed that killer instinct. It takes time to develop that pride . . . that esprit de corps."

Delaware Player

All-Star Pick

NEW YORK (AP)—Delaware's Mike Purzycki, who caught six passes—one for a touchdown—in the Blue Hens' 20-14 victory over previously-unbeaten Temple last Saturday, and John Waller, the losers' quarterback, have been named to the weekly Division II All-East football squad.

Purzycki, who grabbed a 13-yard TD pass and picked up five first downs and 116 yards on his other five catches, earned one of the end positions of the Division II team announced today by the Eastern College Athletic Conference.

The other end is Bill Brewer of Gettysburg, who intercepted two passes against Lafayette, returning one 56 yards for a TD. Waller, who completed 17 of 27 passes for 224 yards and a touchdown against Delaware, heads a backfield that also includes halfbacks Bob Archer of C.W. Post and Paul Keany of Maine, and fullback Steve McNichol of Drexel.

Completing the team are tackles Paul Maczuzak of Bucknell and John Bologna of Amherst; guards Dave Marder of Springfield and Tom Phillips of Williams; and center Bill Horne of Ithaca College.

Rich Laubach, Lehigh's quarterback, was selected Sophomore of the Week.

Four Aspirants For Congress To Debate Here

Saugerties Jaycees urge all residents of the area to attend an Open Forum to be held Wednesday at the Flamingo Restaurant. All candidates for the office of U. S. Congressman in the 28th District will be present to express views in support of their candidacy.

Candidates who will be present are: incumbent Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick, Democrat; Hamilton Fish Jr., Republican standard bearer; Jean Hervey of the Conservative Party; and Eric Lindholm, the Peace candidate.

Joseph P. DiDomenico of the Saugerties Jaycees will be the moderator for this extremely important meeting. Questions from the audience will be invited and are encouraged.

With elections just one week away, it is expected that this may be the last opportunity to meet and question all the candidates.

Refreshments will be served (without charge) to everyone.

Anyone desiring further information regarding the Forum, may contact any of the following members of the Forum Committee: R. A. Cyr, chairman, Maurice Hinchey Jr. or P. R. Peder.

Jaycees Meet; Honor 3 Guests

BERNIE SWEENEY

Honored guest speaker at the October dinner meeting of the Saugerties Jaycees was Bernie Sweeney, president of the New York State Jaycees.

During his Jaycee career, he has held many offices, ranging from branch president of the Kodak Park, Rochester, N. Y. Jaycees in 1962, to his present position as state president. In 1964 he was honored as an Outstanding District President and in 1965 was honored as the Outstanding National Director of the New York State Jaycees.

One of his main goals has been in the field of activation and participation by all members. He has signed up 26 new Jaycees in the past five years and, while president of the Kodak Park Branch, 67 new members were added.

He has been employed at the Eastman Kodak Co. since 1951. In 1955 he joined the Film Sales Department and in 1964 was appointed department head of the Employee Photographic Sales Department.

Sweeney took a leave of absence from Kodak in 1953 to enter the Navy and was honorably discharged in 1955. After serving six years in the Naval Reserves he received the Captain's Award from the U.S.N. Fleet Division 3-7. He received a diploma from the R.I.T. evening division in 1958 in the field of office management.

Sweeney and his wife Jean live in Rochester with their two children where he has been active in the Community Chest drive, as a Cub Scout Pack committeeman with his Church Council, and as a committeeman in his political party. He has served two years on the board of trustees of the Rochester Chamber of Commerce.

Other guests in attendance at this meeting were Ray Lauterbach, N.Y.S. Jaycees National Director from Woodstock, and Mike Mackay, district president from Cossack.

Auxiliary Slaters Saturday Supper

President Evelyn Sherwood reported on the results of the card party held recently at a meeting of the Centerville Fire Company Auxiliary last week. She thanked all members who donated to this event and all those who helped to make the party a success. Madeline Snyder served as chairman of this affair.

Plans were also made at the meeting for a Christmas party and a special turkey feast. The meeting is planned for Nov. 22. Madeline Snyder will also be in charge of this session.

Auxiliary members are invited to a covered dish supper this Saturday. Centerville firemen will also attend this event and special entertainment will be provided.

Notes of Interest

Because of the length and complicated format of the ballot this year, many local residents the voter instruction on use of machines to be held Tuesday from 7:30 to 9 p. m. at C. A. Lynch Firehouse, Theodore Place, Saugerties.

The public is cordially invited to attend the annual fall concert of the Centerville Lutheran Church Choir this coming Sunday at 7:30 p. m. at the church on Market Street, Saugerties. The program will feature Walton McClure, baritone, and a chorus of 65 voices under the direction of Donald S. Fellows. A traditional hymn sing will be included in the service.

Club Members Hear Psychologist

Robert Valachovic, psychologist for Saugerties Central Schools, was guest speaker at a combined meeting of the Home and Education Departments of the Women's Club recently in the Saugerties Savings Bank meeting room.

Valachovic's topic was Some Aspects of Conversing with Children. He emphasized the importance of listening in conversation. Many concrete suggestions on improving adult-child relationships were given.

His talk was followed by a question period and attending members enjoyed a profitable and informative evening. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

The Evangelist answered in all seriousness: Billy Sunday — I honor every seeker after knowledge of the truth. But I have a word of warning for this questioner. Don't risk losing salvation by too much inquiring after other men's wives.

Correction Local Gives Support to 3 Dem Candidates

The Napanoch Correction Officers Local 1041, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees unanimously endorsed Joseph Y. Resnick for reelection to Congress in the 28th District; Frank D. O'Connor for election as governor and George Majestic for election to the State Assembly.

Referring to Congressman Resnick, the statement said, "Congressman Resnick has voted for issues which are vital to the welfare of our country and its citizens. He has supported labor legislation during his tenure in Congress. For the first time in many years we know we have representation in Washington."
Gov. Rockefeller came under strong attack by the union members which accused the governor of using his "vast economic resources to buy the election." They also questioned the reasons behind the recent salary raise for Civil Service employees which will go into effect shortly after Election Day.
They summed up their statement by saying, "The absentee governor has given us nothing but 2 per cent taxes and 2 per cent leadership. It's time for a change."

Accident Involves 3 Cars on Monday

Three cars were involved in an accident Monday night on Glascow Turnpike when the operator of one of the cars alleges his vehicle was forced off the road, causing his car to strike a parked car which collided with another parked car. The operator of the car, John Penning, Saugerties, received lacerations of the eye and nose, and a passenger in the car, Robert Brueckner, West Shokan, received lacerations of the forehead.
Penning told State Trooper Carl Van Wagenen that he was driving east on Glascow Turnpike when he applied the brakes for an unidentified car, went off the south shoulder of the road, lost control and his car struck the parked car of James Foley, Endicott City, Md., which was forced into a car owned by William Fauer, Woodstock. The cars were damaged about the rear, the report states.

Candidate Calls For Return of a Loyal Opposition

As most local voters are well aware, Dr. Audrey Bell Hamilton, of Bearsville, is the Democrat candidate for Town Councilman in this election year of 1966. Dr. Hamilton's devotion to the welfare of people has led her to take an active and enthusiastic interest in the government of the town in which she has been a long-time resident and in which she has such a broad acquaintance and such a deep involvement, a spokesman for the local Democratic party said today. Although not previously active in partisan politics, Dr. Hamilton's concern with the community's problems, her ability, integrity and desire to give unstintingly of herself for the benefit of the whole community has given her wide bi-partisan support, the spokesman noted.

Dr. Hamilton's conviction that a really democratic government demands an active two party system has prompted her to seek the position of councilman, she says. She believes that the long history of one party control of Woodstock's government has resulted in an apathetic and inactive Town Board. She feels that a revitalization is needed now, before it is too late, in order to provide the leadership necessary to the growing challenges of a very rapidly growing and changing community. It is Dr. Hamilton's feeling that it will take much hard work, firm dedication, and imagination for Woodstock to retain both its charm and beauty, and at the same time provide the quality services which the growth of the community dictates.

It is also her contention that there is no check and balance system, no "loyal opposition," in our one party controlled government. She points out that matters of great importance can now be passed quietly, and without open discussion, or even the awareness of Woodstock's citizens. Dr. Hamilton feels that a voice of independence is desperately needed on the Town Board in order to stimulate the two-party system on which our Country is based.

An active, vigorous, soft-spoken woman, Dr. Hamilton is highly respected by people of all segments of the community, her party feels. She plans to submit policy papers to this column, outlining her position on the issues which she feels are of utmost importance in Woodstock at this time. Her statements will appear during the next few days.

Auxiliary Sets Yule Fete, Bus Trip to N.Y.C.

A Christmas party for children of the community, plans for the annual bus trip, and reports on past projects were on the agenda of the Ladies Auxiliary of Woodstock Fire Co., No. 3 of Lake Hill at its monthly business session.
The Christmas party for children of the communities served by the fire company is a new project for the Auxiliary. In charge of the activities are Mrs. Louis Kolbe and Mrs. Connie McLeary, with other Auxiliary members helping. The party is scheduled for Saturday Dec. 17, from noon until 3 p. m., for children 12 years of age and under. Present plans call for a gala affair, climaxed by the arrival of Santa Claus on the fire apparatus.

The annual bus trip to New York City is set for Saturday, Dec. 10, leaving the village green in Woodstock at 8 a. m., and leaving the Port Authority in New York City at 8 p. m. for the return trip. Mrs. Howard Humphries of Willow is accepting reservations for the trip, with all reservations due by Dec. 3. The bus trip is open to the general public and will afford a day in New York City.

The third in the series of family suppers sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary was reported a success, with approximately 50 in attendance. The supper was held at the firehouse, with motion pictures and slides following the evening meal.

A merchandise party held for members of the Auxiliary and friends was also reported to be both a social and financial success.

A total of 67 active and supporting members of the auxiliary attended the meeting. Any girl or woman desiring to affiliate with the Ladies Auxiliary of Woodstock Fire Co. No. 3 is invited to the next meeting which will be at the firehouse in Lake Hill on Tuesday, Nov. 29 at 8 p. m.

Chorus Returns For 2nd Season

Ars Choralis, the chorus for mixed voices sponsored by Woodstock's Performing Arts, has commenced rehearsals again after a summer rest. Now in its second year, the chorus is a well-balanced and capable group, fulfilling the aims of its able director Bernard de Surcy, M. de Surcy, originally from France, came to Woodstock in hopes of finding a high percentage of people with a love of music. His eagerness, competence and charm have welded a musical instrument with a great range of power and expression out of the inexperienced, but willing singers who attended last year.

The chorus is currently planning concerts for Woodstock, Hyde Park, and Poughkeepsie in the near future, with many more events still brewing for the late winter and spring. The songs will be a mixture of religious and folk pieces, wonderful music, some of which has been performed continuously for more than 500 years.

M. de Surcy welcomes new members. His unique methods of teaching music insures a place in the chorus for any individual, provided only that he or she is willing to sing. Ars Choralis is a lively and interesting way to pass Monday evenings. Come to the Woodstock School at 8 p. m. and join in. The long winter is only beginning.

Upstaters Are Killed in Viet

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — An Army private first class and a Air Force airman second class, both from Upstate New York, have been reported killed in combat in the central highlands of South Viet Nam.

The Defense Department in Washington said Monday the soldier was Gerard R. McConnell of Buffalo, who had been in the Southeast Asian nation only five weeks.

The department also listed Francis D. Rice, the airman, son of Mrs. Marguerite Rice of Syracuse.

McConnell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. McConnell, said their only child was killed by small arms fire while on patrol last Friday with Company C, 1st Battalion, 1st Air Cavalry Division.

The airman, Rice, who was 24, had attended Le Moyne College in Syracuse for two years before enlisting in 1965. He was sent to Pleiku, the chief city in the central highlands, last February. Rice is survived by his mother, a brother, Robert, and a sister, Mary.

Majestic Protests Paltz Vote Plan

Supervisor George Majestic, Gardiner Democrat, has written an "open letter" to the Ulster County Commissioners of Election, Seymour Werbalowsky and Joseph Epstein, protesting the set-up of voting facilities in the Town of New Paltz. He calls on the Board of Elections to investigate the situation in New Paltz where the voting districts have been increased from 4 to 8.

Majestic, who is the Democratic candidate for Member of Assembly, 9th New York Assembly District, opposing Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson, incumbent, charges that the eight election districts are "being served at a single location." He charged there will be "mass confusion" at the polling places and that voters directed to the proper voting places and correct line for voting purposes, may not remain and leave before casting a vote. He also charges that "assuming that the procedure will be the same as it was on Registration Day, there will be more than one election district and inspectors in one room. It is understandable that the inspectors and watchers cannot do justice to their responsible jobs on Election Day." Parking facilities are also challenged and he calls attention of the Election Commissioners to that fact and claims many voters, particularly "senior citizens" will not remain to vote.

Majestic calls on the Election Commissioners to investigate the situation and "take the necessary steps to correct this situation prior to Election Day."

Ohio Man Charged In Ellenville Store

An Ohio man was arrested by Ellenville police Monday morning when he was found in the Woolworth store in Ellenville. He was charged with third degree burglary and held for grand jury action.

Charles Roberts, 48, of Batavia, O., had entered the store through a side window and was still in the building when police arrived. It is alleged he had taken rings and other jewelry from the store.

The arrest was made by Chief Abe Rand, Sergeant Phillips and Officer Franklin.

To Collect Leaves

Superintendent of Public Works Charles J. Cole announced today that leaf collections will start Thursday in the Ninth, Third, Fourth and Eighth wards, in that order.

Where The Action Is - - -

You'll find Smith Parish! And where Smith Parish is you'll find action . . . fast action. We've come to the Rescue of many a house in this area, and because of our years of experience we size up roofing and siding problems quickly.

Of course there's something more important than speed . . . expertise. We've got it by the truckload. This helps us to get the most from modern methods and time-honored processes. And when something comes up that's never been in the book, it's Smith Parish experience that enables us to come up with the answer every time!
